Two Trucks Slam Together, Drivers Crawl Out Unhurt

Vehicle Carrying Soft Drinks Collides With Rock Carrier

Broken bottles, soda pop and twisted wreckage were strewn across the southbound lanes of Highway 101 north of Atherton Avenue in Novato after two trucks collided with a resounding crash at 9 a.m. today.

Drivers of both trucks crawled from the wreckage with only minor scratches. One southbound lane of the highway was closed for almost an hour while firemen cleared broken glass and wreckage from the pavement. Other lanes were generally slowed as passing motorists slowed to view the twisted trucks.

CASES OF POP

The California Highway Patrol said a southbound truck loaded with cases of soft drinks, driven by James Raymond Watson, 26, of Santa Rosa, hit the side of a rock truck and trailer driven by Charles Waymon Curbello, 40, of Healdsburg, as he was crossing the highway eastbound.

The cab and front end of the soft drink truck owned by the R. C. Bottling Co. of Santa Rosa, was crushed by the impact. Both trucks skidded 69 feet from the point of impact, according to CHP.

"I got out of there as quick as I could," Watson stated, telling how he crawled out through the broken windshield as soon as the trucks stopped.

Watson said that he saw a passenger car stop as the rock truck started to pull out onto Highway 101 where the new entrance road to San Marin is being built.

ANOTHER TRUCK

"There was another rock truck in the island and the stopped car, so I didn't have any choice but to hit him," Watson told CHP officers.

Driver of the car which stopped to let the rock truck pass, drove away immediately after the accident, according to the CHP.

Both rock trucks are owned by Larry Landras. They were working on the new San Marin Road.

"He's the luckiest man alive on earth today," Curbello said of Watson later at Novato hospital where both men were treated and released.

Curbello told investigating officers that he did not see the soft drink truck coming. He will be cited for failure to yield right of way, according to the CHP.

Senate Group Passes Test Ban Treaty

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee approved the historic nuclear test ban treaty by an overwhelming 16 to 1 vote today and sent it to the Senate for an almost certain ratification.

The committee, acting after three weeks of hearings, attached no reservations to the treaty that President John F. Kennedy has called the first step toward reducing world tensions and perhaps other agreements with Russia.

Committee Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) speculated that the Senate might give its "advice and consent" to the pact by a greater margin than the administration originally anticipated. A two-thirds vote of approval is required for ratification.

The lone vote against sending the treaty to the floor was cast by Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La.). He said he feared it would jeopardize U.S. security and wanted more time to explore opposition testimony.

The treaty, banning all but underground nuclear tests, will come up for Senate debate on Sept. 9. Fulbright said he thought the pact would be ratified about a week later with

Coast Guard Helps Out Two Boats In Distress

A fishing boat loaded with albacore reported sinking off Point Reyes was contacted late this morning after an air and sea search. A 95-foot Coast Guard cutter pulled along side and began pumping out water.

The Lilly Ann, with Thomas Cesalu of San Francisco on board, was reported sinking at 7:48 a.m. today when a "mayday" signal was sent from another boat in the area and picked up at Bodega. Two planes were sent up and found the 34-foot craft 17 miles westsouthwest of Point Reyes at 10:30.

The Coast Guard made another rescue last night, of a 40-foot ketch-rigged trimaran becalmed in heavy sea and fog between Point Reyes and Tomales Bay. The boat, Xamenk, was towed into Bodega Bay by a 36-foot motor lifeboat at 10:45 p.m.

The boat had five persons on board, including Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fredericksen and their son. Fredericksen is an anthropologist at the University of Oregon, and the boat was bound from Astoria, Ore., to San Francisco. Damage was reported as a broken rudder.

Second Place Goes To Marin Fair Exhibit

Marin's exhibit depicting the landing of Sir Francis Drake 384 years ago won second prize in this morning's judging of the "California" entries at the state fair in Sacramento.

The exhibits in this category dealt with anything of historical significance in the state.

San Francisco won first prize with its exhibit commemorating the 250th anniversary of the birth of Father Junipero Serra on the island of Majorca off Spain.

Marin's exhibit, coordinated for the third straight year by Mrs. Marcelle B. McCoy of 115 Van Tassel Court, San Anselmo, continued the county's record of moving up one notch in the annual judging. During the last four years, Marin has finished fifth, fourth, third and now second.

Marin's runnerup award brings the county $1,400 and a perpetual trophy. This doesn't match the display cost of $3,489. San Francisco spent about $7,500 on its display, and won $1,600 and a perpetual trophy. Third place went to Del Norte, which received $1,200.

Closure Threatens Marin Swiss Club

County Sanitary Problem

By LOREN MacARTHUR

The Swiss Club Tell in Mill Valley faces closure for violations of county sanitation and building codes practically on the eve of its 43rd anniversary celebration dance, the Independent-Journal learned today.

The man who notified county inspectors of the violations is William Castleberg, caretaker for the club, who was fired by the club's directors Monday for "interfering."

The club was sent a seven day abatement notice for sewage running over the ground and into the street yesterday by Abraham Virdeh, county sanitarian.

'IN BOONDOCKS'

"I understand the owners have not manifested an avid interest in cleaning up the place," Virdeh said. "The club is way out in the boondocks. We never get out there, or we would have issued the notice sooner. If a plan is not presented within seven days for sewage disposal, we will shut them down."

"I couldn't find any sanitary disposal system at all. They didn't have any septic tank, just a little sump," Virdeh said.

Castleberg arrived at the club, on Marin View, two months ago.

ROTTING TIMBER

"I had a dream," he said. "I wanted to make this club beautiful again. I hiked in these mountains 30 years ago on my honeymoon.

FORMAL REDISTRICT ACTION IS DELAYED

Consideration Put Off For Study Of Population Trends

Marin supervisors this morning put off formal consideration of redistricting until a study can be made of population trends in the county.

The motion to postpone was made by Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker who went on to assure the audience of three that he didn't mean it "as some kind of delaying tactic" and did not want the public to "misunderstand" it as such. Leydecker requested, with full agreement of other supervisors, that the county planning department prepare a population trends report projected to the years 1965 and 1970 to show where the most growth will occur in the county.

Leydecker said that with the requested report and the one already prepared by an advisory committee on redistricting, he would be ready to make a decision.

"But in the general interests of good government, we might look ahead," he said.

The only outspoken stand on supervisorial redistricting proposed by the committee was taken by George Ludy of Inverness. Committee proposals would add large areas to Ludy's already extensive fourth district in an effort to have it include a greater percentage of the population, from the present 1.7 to 6 per cent.

"I'm not going to vote for this plan if it goes in before March. No matter if I run or if somebody else runs, it'll take about a year to get around and meet people."

State statutes provide that counties may not be redistricted less than 90 days before an election of supervisors.

Couples File Suit To Block Day School

Three Belvedere couples yesterday filed a suit in Marin County Superior Court in an attempt to prevent a parochial day school from opening at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church Sept. 12.

The three couples, who live near the church, are Mr. and Mrs. John A. Ostram of 11 Bayview Avenue, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald R. Sheehy of 18 Golden Gate Avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Scheier of 16 Golden Gate Avenue.

The suit claims that deed restrictions specifically limit the use of the church property to religious worship. The couples claim that a school so close to their properties will cause such inconveniences as objectional noise, traffic congestion, parking problems and invasion of privacy.

The Belvedere Planning Commission Monday night forwarded a unanimous recommendation to the city council that the zoning ordinance not be amended to permit the school in a residential zone.

Trains Roll After Strike Is Blocked

WASHINGTON (AP) — The trains were rolling today.

What kept them rolling was strike-blocking legislation quickly enacted yesterday by Congress and signed into law by President John F. Kennedy.

What touches off the note of caution is the view in several quarters that the legislation only serves to delay future discord and a subsequent strike threat.

Racing against the clock—the strike had been set for 12:01 a.m. today—the House at 4:42 p.m. yesterday approved a resolution passed by the Senate Tuesday night calling for binding arbitration.

Minutes later carriers announced they were taking down notices of new work rules and the heads of the five rail brotherhoods announced they were canceling strike plans.

Having previously declared a railroad strike at this time "intolerable," the president said the legislation "reaffirmed the essential priority of the public interest over any narrower interest."

Even as the bill rolled through Congress there were rumbles that it had stalled off a strike for possibly only six months. Also, there was union criticism that compulsory arbitration of the two issues was a "regrettable and backward step."

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

'Raids' Denounced

Loot Now 'Useless'

LONDON (AP) — The serial numbers of many of the bank notes stolen in Britain's great train robbery were circulated widely today. Police said they were convinced most of the seven-million-dollar haul now is useless to the thieves.

Scotland Yard believes the loot from the Aug. 8 mail train ambush still is in Britain, although some of the gang's ringleaders may have fled the country.

Philip Wylie Kin, Friend Slain

NEW YORK (UPI)—Two young career girls, one the niece of author Philip Wylie, were found last night stabbed to death and tied together in their apartment on Manhattan's swank East Side.

Wylie

The victims, found in the bedroom of the flat, were Janice Wylie, 21, an employee of Newsweek who hoped to become an actress, and Emily Hoffert, 23, daughter of a Minneapolis surgeon, who had planned to start teaching next month.

The bodies were removed from the third-floor apartment shortly after midnight and taken, still bound together, to the morgue at Bellevue Hospital where autopsies will be performed later today.

Hoffert

The bodies were discovered by the two girls' roommate, Patricia Tolles, 23, and Miss Wylie's father, Max Wylie, and advertising firm executive and also an author.

Miss Tolles said she last saw her roommates alive when she left the four-room, $250-a-month apartment at 9:30 a.m. yesterday.

When she returned at 6:40 p.m., she said she found the apartment in disarray and, frightened, telephoned Max Wylie, who lives just two blocks away. It was Wylie who pushed open the bedroom door and found the girls, who had been bound hand and foot and then tied together back-to-back with sheets.

PULA, Yugoslavia (UPI)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev wound up his visit to President Tito's island retreat today with indications he may be balking on some of Tito's demands in their new "collaboration."

Khrushchev and the Yugoslav leader, after four days in private talks on Brioni Island off this city, were scheduled to travel to the northern Adriatic resort of Kopar aboard the presidential yacht Seagull.

A three-day tour of northern Yugoslavia is the final leg of Khrushchev's 15-day visit.

Switchmen's Leader Hits Arbitration Bill

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Neil P. Speirs, international president of the Switchmen's Union, AFL-CIO, says the compulsory arbitration legislation which averted a railroad strike today is a "first step in the erosion of the free collective bargaining system in this country."

Speirs said in a statement last night the law sets a precedent which could apply to any industry where the government decides a strike could damage the public interest.

93 Tourists Pay Extra— Nine Stranded

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ninety-three tourists returning from a nine-week European tour yesterday were forced to shell out an extra $59 each because their travel agent ran out of money to pay their fare home.

An additional nine in the group failed to pay the extra money and presumably were stranded in the city. The majority of the tourists were from California.

One of the nine, Alfred R. Young, 20, a sophomore business student at the City College of San Francisco, said he returned from Europe with only $7 and had no one to wire for money.

A lawyer for Jerry Davis, the agent, said funds were exhausted as the result of commitments Davis had to fulfill to another group of 101 Californians who were stranded in New York last July en route to Paris—and had to turn back because the airlines refused to fly them at the rates Davis was paying.

Daniel Haley, the attorney, said more than 1,000 other California travelers booked to Europe on eight other tours also would have trouble getting home when they arrive in New York in the next few days.

He said Davis, located in Palo Alto, had difficulty because he booked flights for the individual tourists under cheaper rates allowed by the Civil Aeronautics Board for established, organized groups, such as recognized clubs and civic organizations.

"I can't understand this," said Alan Ruskin, 22, a graduate psychology student at Stanford. "We paid $399 for the round trip fare and we had to pay an extra $15 before we could even get on the plane at Oakland."

Several of the tourists were able to pay for their fares home by means of promissory notes.

SCIENTIST GIVES NEW LIFE THEORY

Believes Magnetism, Radioactive Wind Shaped Life Two Billion Years Ago

By WILLIAM C. HARRISON

BERKELEY (AP)—Magnetism and a radioactive wind from the sun shaped life that began on earth about two billion years ago, a Canadian scientist suggested today.

The magnetism protected living things from too much radiation. But sometimes the magnetic shield collapsed or reversed itself. Then the radioactive wind blew stronger onto earth, creating bursts of evolutionary progress from genetic changes induced by radiation, said Prof. Robert J. Uffen, geophysicist of the University of Western Ontario.

Surges in evolution brought about entirely new special of animals and plants. And man appeared somewhere along the way in this sometimes rapid evolution from the very first living molecules, he said.

Fossil records show there were past periods of rapid evolution, he said.

Outlining his theory, Uffen said the earth condensed from cosmic dust and gas swirling around the sun about 4.5 billion years ago. Gravitational forces pulled together iron and silicate elements, forming a core. Heat from pressure and radioactivity melted it. The heavy iron settled toward the center while the lighter crust cooled.

Increasing heat churned the molten metals upward. Then they cooled and fell back. Thermal convection cells or circulations of heat developed.

Meanwhile, the solar winds—blasts of electrically charged particles — swept across the earth, induced electric currents within the iron core and set up a primary field of magnetism.

The convection cells moving through the magnetic field made the core a self-exciting dynamo, generating lines of magnetic force that moved outward. The earth's new magnetic field shielded it from much of the powerful, sterilizing radiation from the sun.

Finally, about 2.5 billion years after the planet was formed, life could arise by chance—and survive — in the primeval soups of molecules on the earth's crust.

SAVED FROM THE VIET CONG

A powerful H-37 halicopter (left) strains as it attempts to lift a downed chopper from a rice paddy near Ben Cat, northwest of Saigon, South Viet Nam. The chopper had been forced down by engine trouble during a military operation. The H-37 (right) lifts the mired helicopter in its third try. The rescue operation was accomplished under constant threat of attack from rebel troops. The photos were released to the Associated Press by the Army today.

Trains Roll After Strike Is Blocked

WASHINGTON (AP) — The trains were rolling today.

What kept them rolling was strike-blocking legislation quickly enacted yesterday by Congress and signed into law by President John F. Kennedy.

What touches off the note of caution is the view in several quarters that the legislation only serves to delay future discord and a subsequent strike threat.

Racing against the clock—the strike had been set for 12:01 a.m. today—the House at 4:42 p.m. yesterday approved a resolution passed by the Senate Tuesday night calling for binding arbitration.

Minutes later carriers announced they were taking down notices of new work rules and the heads of the five rail brotherhoods announced they were canceling strike plans.

Having previously declared a railroad strike at this time "intolerable," the president said the legislation "reaffirmed the essential priority of the public interest over any narrower interest."

Even as the bill rolled through Congress there were rumbles that it had stalled off a strike for possibly only six months. Also, there was union criticism that compulsory arbitration of the two issues was a "regrettable and backward step."

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

'Raids' Denounced

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union today denounced raids on Cuba and pledged continued support for Premier Fidel Castro's regime.

But there was no mention of when Cuba might accede to Soviet wishes and sign the limited nuclear test ban treaty. All other Communist countries except those which follow Red China have signed.

Algeria Constitution

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP)—The Algerian Assembly adopted the country's first constitution last night, and thus established virtual unrestricted rule by Premier Ahmed Ben Bella.

Upon expected ratification of the constitution in a national referendum, Ben Bella will be answerable to no one but his National Liberation Front, the only legal party.

Federalists Elect

KYOTA, Japan (AP)—Dr. Hideki Yukawa, Japan's Nobel Prize winning physicist, was reelected president of the World Assn. of World Federalists today.

Loot Now 'Useless'

LONDON (AP) — The serial numbers of many of the bank notes stolen in Britain's great train robbery were circulated widely today. Police said they were convinced most of the seven-million-dollar haul now is useless to the thieves.

Scotland Yard believes the loot from the Aug. 8 mail train ambush still is in Britain, although some of the gang's ringleaders may have fled the country.

Philip Wylie Kin, Friend Slain

NEW YORK (UPI)—Two young career girls, one the niece of author Philip Wylie, were found last night stabbed to death and tied together in their apartment on Manhattan's swank East Side.

Wylie

The victims, found in the bedroom of the flat, were Janice Wylie, 21, an employee of Newsweek who hoped to become an actress, and Emily Hoffert, 23, daughter of a Minneapolis surgeon, who had planned to start teaching next month.

The bodies were removed from the third-floor apartment shortly after midnight and taken, still bound together, to the morgue at Bellevue Hospital where autopsies will be performed later today.

Hoffert

The bodies were discovered by the two girls' roommate, Patricia Tolles, 23, and Miss Wylie's father, Max Wylie, and advertising firm executive and also an author.

Miss Tolles said she last saw her roommates alive when she left the four-room, $250-a-month apartment at 9:30 a.m. yesterday.

When she returned at 6:40 p.m., she said she found the apartment in disarray and, frightened, telephoned Max Wylie, who lives just two blocks away. It was Wylie who pushed open the bedroom door and found the girls, who had been bound hand and foot and then tied together back-to-back with sheets.

Formula For Peace

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The Dominican Republic was understood today to have agreed in principle to a formula designed to ensure peace with neighboring Haiti.

An Organization of American States commission, sponsor of the formula, reportedly obtained Haiti's general endorsement earlier this week.

Cast For 'Christine'

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP)—British actress Yvonne Buckingham arrived in Copenhagen yesterday to co-star with John Drew Barrymore in "The Christine Keeler Story" film.

Barrymore is cast as the late Dr. Stephen Ward. Miss Keeler could not play herself, as originally planned, because British Equity refused to admit her to membership.

Pope Sees U.S. Aides

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP)—Pope Paul VI gave a private audience yesterday to Abba P. Schwartz and George Warren, U.S. State Department officials who handle refugee problems. They are in Europe on a survey trip.

Khrushchev 'Balking'

PULA, Yugoslavia (UPI)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev wound up his visit to President Tito's island retreat today with indications he may be balking on some of Tito's demands in their new "collaboration."

Khrushchev and the Yugoslav leader, after four days in private talks on Brioni Island off this city, were scheduled to travel to the northern Adriatic resort of Kopar aboard the presidential yacht Seagull.

A three-day tour of northern Yugoslavia is the final leg of Khrushchev's 15-day visit.

Switchmen's Leader Hits Arbitration Bill

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Neil P. Speirs, international president of the Switchmen's Union, AFL-CIO, says the compulsory arbitration legislation which averted a railroad strike today is a "first step in the erosion of the free collective bargaining system in this country."

Speirs said in a statement last night the law sets a precedent which could apply to any industry where the government decides a strike could damage the public interest.

93 Tourists Pay Extra— Nine Stranded

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ninety-three tourists returning from a nine-week European tour yesterday were forced to shell out an extra $59 each because their travel agent ran out of money to pay their fare home.

An additional nine in the group failed to pay the extra money and presumably were stranded in the city. The majority of the tourists were from California.

One of the nine, Alfred R. Young, 20, a sophomore business student at the City College of San Francisco, said he returned from Europe with only $7 and had no one to wire for money.

A lawyer for Jerry Davis, the agent, said funds were exhausted as the result of commitments Davis had to fulfill to another group of 101 Californians who were stranded in New York last July en route to Paris—and had to turn back because the airlines refused to fly them at the rates Davis was paying.

Daniel Haley, the attorney, said more than 1,000 other California travelers booked to Europe on eight other tours also would have trouble getting home when they arrive in New York in the next few days.

He said Davis, located in Palo Alto, had difficulty because he booked flights for the individual tourists under cheaper rates allowed by the Civil Aeronautics Board for established, organized groups, such as recognized clubs and civic organizations.

"I can't understand this," said Alan Ruskin, 22, a graduate psychology student at Stanford. "We paid $399 for the round trip fare and we had to pay an extra $15 before we could even get on the plane at Oakland."

Several of the tourists were able to pay for their fares home by means of promissory notes.

SCIENTIST GIVES NEW LIFE THEORY

Believes Magnetism, Radioactive Wind Shaped Life Two Billion Years Ago

By WILLIAM C. HARRISON

BERKELEY (AP)—Magnetism and a radioactive wind from the sun shaped life that began on earth about two billion years ago, a Canadian scientist suggested today.

The magnetism protected living things from too much radiation. But sometimes the magnetic shield collapsed or reversed itself. Then the radioactive wind blew stronger onto earth, creating bursts of evolutionary progress from genetic changes induced by radiation, said Prof. Robert J. Uffen, geophysicist of the University of Western Ontario.

Surges in evolution brought about entirely new special of animals and plants. And man appeared somewhere along the way in this sometimes rapid evolution from the very first living molecules, he said.

Fossil records show there were past periods of rapid evolution, he said.

Outlining his theory, Uffen said the earth condensed from cosmic dust and gas swirling around the sun about 4.5 billion years ago. Gravitational forces pulled together iron and cilicate elements, forming a core. Heat from pressure and radioactivity melted it. The heavy iron settled toward the center while the lighter crust cooled.

Increasing heat churned the molten metals upward. Then they cooled and fell back. Thermal convection cells or circulations of heat developed.

Meanwhile, the solar winds—blasts of electrically charged particles — swept across the earth, induced electric currents within the iron core and set up a primary field of magnetism.

The convection cells moving through the magnetic field made the core a self-exciting dynamo, generating lines of magnetic force that moved outward. The earth's new magnetic field shielded it from much of the powerful, sterilizing radiation from the sun.

Finally, about 2.5 billion years after the planet was formed, life could arise by chance—and survive — in the primeval soups of molecules on the earth's crust.

Report Finds Bodega Head Quake Danger

BERKELEY (AP) — An earthquake as big as the one which wrecked San Francisco in 1906 could toss the 60-million-dollar nuclear power plant planned for Bodega Head by as much as 20 feet, an earthquake specialist said today.

Because the contemplated plant of Pacific Gas and Electric Co. would be near the San Andreas earthquake fault, the site is a very poor location, contends Dr. Pierre Saint-Amand.

Opponents of the Bodega Head project employed Dr. Saint-Amand, head of the astronautical sciences division of the Naval Ordnance Test Station at China Lake, to study the situation.

Today a 25-page illustrated booklet was released. So the Northern California Assn. to Preserve Bodega Head and Harbor called a news conference with Dr. Saint-Amand present.

He said the site is 750 feet from the San Andreas fault although Atomic Energy Commission regulations require at least 1,320 feet. This, the scientist added, would imperil the plant from a whiplash action which occurs during major quakes.

"It is surprising, in view of expert advice given that another site was not chosen," he reported in the booklet, "and that construction has gone ahead. The location on Bodega Head is hazardous from a geological and seismic point of view."

TREATY

opposition votes numbering somewhat less than the 20 he originally looked for.

The committee will issue a written report next Tuesday or Wednesday which will contain "understandings and interpretations" dealing with continued U.S. preparations to resume atmospheric tests if Russia or any other country should violate the pact. It has been signed by 83 nations.

Among other things, the report will contain a statement that the treaty will not prevent the United States, or any country, from using nuclear weapons in wartime. Concern on this point had been voiced by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and others.

The report will summarize testimony taken during the hearings and give the majority's recommendations on ratification. Long, who said he reserved the right to change his mind but now opposes the pact, could issue a minority report.

Judge's Son, Others Freed In Wild Party

A judge's son and more than 30 other youths, rounded up at a Sleepy Hollow drinking party last Saturday night, will not be charged with any crime because of insufficient evidence, Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety announced today.

Dennis Stephan Thomas, 18, son of Judge and Mrs. Leonard A. Thomas of 50 Estates Drive, had played host to some friends while his parents were on vacation. The party got out of hand.

On a complaint from neighbors, officers rounded up 34 teen-agers and booked them on suspicion of illegal possession of liquor.

"Neither the neighbor who called the sheriff's office, nor the deputies who responded are able to identify any particular individual as having committed a specific offense, including the son of the judge," said Garety.

"The officers were confronted with a difficult situation — about 70 teen-agers engaged in a noisy party with considerable evidence of drinking.

"We know this type of party can lead to serious trouble, for example, rioting and assaults. The officers were right in breaking it up. The preferable course would have been to send the teen-agers home and notify the parents.

"As far as the decision of this (district attorney's) office is concerned, the son of a judge should receive the same treatment as anybody else — no better and no worse. In the past this office has refused to prosecute minors where the evidence was insufficient. We have prosecuted where there was adequate evidence, and will continue to do so.

"I have discussed the situation with the sheriff and we concur that Section 849 (b) (1) of the Penal Code be utilized. This section provides that a peace officer may decide to take no further action when he is satisfied that there is no ground for making a criminal complaint against the person arrested. The use of this section will have the legal effect of making the acts in question detentions rather than arrests. The young people involved will be able to state hereafter, if asked, for example, in a job application, that they had not been arrested."

District Attorney Garety said several of the girls came to his office to relate that they had just arrived at the party and had not been drinking at all when the officers rounded them up. One of them was Roberta Giacomini, 18, daughter of the county recorder. She said she and two girl friends had just entered the home and were standing in the hallway when arrested.

Garety said the Business and Professions Code charge (of illegal liquor possession) does not apply because this was in a private home, not in a public place. A disturbing the peace charge would not stand up because witnesses and investigators cannot pinpoint individual acts of disturbance, the district attorney explained.

A neighbor who telephoned the complaint told the district attorney: "I don't know any of the individuals, but I was just trying to protect my property . . . I was afraid somebody might get hurt."

His wife is quoted as saying, "It was my feeling that the party should have been stopped, the kids sent home, and that would be the end of the matter."

Said Sheriff Louis P. Mountanous, whose men led the raid: "When my office is informed of any noisy drinking parties, we're going to break it up completely, because if you let it go, it could lead to something."

The sheriff said he talked to the judge's son, who said he just invited a few friends "but word must have got around," and before he knew it, 15 carloads of youths were at his home.

The seats of Ludy, Chairman William D. Fusselman, Peter Behr and Byron W. Leydecker will be up for election in the June primary.

Hugh Dougherty, president of the Stinson Beach Progressive Club which opposes the proposed shift of its community from Behr's third district to Ludy's expanded forth, asked that the entire question be sent back to another redistricting advisory committee for further study. Dougherty said that population equalization had not been given enough consideration under the last committee.

The suggestion was countered when Fusselman said that the supervisors most often represent unincorporated areas in the business they discuss, in which case some of the less populated districts such as Ludy's fourth are more equal in representation to Fusselman's city-filled second with few unincorporated areas.

Cars Collided After 1st Crash

The car of Dorothy Leone Hafslund of 865 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, collided with another car Monday only after the other car had hit a car in front and stopped traffic, she reported today.

Yesterday's Independent-Journal erroneously reported her southbound car hit a car ahead of her on East Francisco Boulevard near Medway in San Rafael and the car ahead "in turn" hit the rear of another car.

"It was the first accident that cause me to get injured," she said. "I couldn't stop in time to avoid hitting the car that already was stopped ahead of me."

the floor when she was bowling. The linen was dirty.

"I wanted to fix it. I began to rip out the rotting wood, and I ordered new lumber to fix it.

"The owners are old. They didn't want changes. They promised to help me buy new building materials. But when the bill came, they wouldn't pay. They said I wasn't meant to do anything but caretaking."

"I had to pay a $64 laundry bill for linens I sent out to be cleaned because they refused to pay.

'CLUB NOT FIT'

"The club isnot fit to go in. They plan an anniversary dance Sept. 15, and it is not safe to put those people in the club. I will go to the district attorney if necessary to prevent it."

"We decided Mr. Castleberg is not the person we thought he was," Leo F. Schwab, club president, said today.

"He's trying to make trouble. It's absolutely not called for. He was not authorized to spend any money for anything without our permission first. We didn't give permission for anything."

The club is run by a board of nine directors who are also part owners.

"He started repairs he didn't finish," added Schwab. "We didn't give him any authorization. There may be a few problems. But we clean up when it's necessary to clean up," Schwab said.

"My brother was a member 10 years ago," said Castleberg. "He put up scaffolding to wash the windows, and it's still there."

The club is situated between Panoramic Highway and Edgewood near a residential area.

Castleberg has been ordered by the directors to leave the club by Saturday. A widower, he has lived there since taking the job.

"They have cut my hands," he said. "My dream is not possible to fulfill.

Castleberg added he has also notified the county fire department. "Rubbish is heaped around the grounds," he said.

Report Finds Bodega Head Quake Danger

BERKELEY (AP) — An earthquake as big as the one which wrecked San Francisco in 1906 could toss the 60-million-dollar nuclear power plant planned for Bodega Head by as much as 20 feet, an earthquake specialist said today.

Because the contemplated plant of Pacific Gas and Electric Co. would be near the San Andreas earthquake fault, the site is a very poor location, contends Dr. Pierre Saint-Amand.

Opponents of the Bodega Head project employed Dr. Saint-Amand, head of the astronautical sciences division of the Naval Ordnance Test Station at China Lake, to study the situation.

Still in superior court, is a suit by Kenneth G. Wells, Harvey D. La Flamme and Eimer Frass, all of Belvedere, claiming that the church school is prohibited for the area by the city zoning ordinance.

Judge's Son, Others Freed In Wild Party

A judge's son and more than 30 other youths, rounded up at a Sleepy Hollow drinking party last Saturday night, will not be charged with any crime because of insufficient evidence, Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety announced today.

Dennis Stephan Thomas, 18, son of Judge and Mrs. Leonard A. Thomas of 50 Estates Drive, had played host to some friends while his parents were on vacation. The party got out of hand.

On a complaint from neighbors, officers rounded up 34 teen-agers and booked them on suspicion of illegal possession of liquor.

"Neither the neighbor who called the sheriff's office, nor the deputies who responded are able to identify any particular individual as having committed a specific offense, including the son of the judge," said Garety.

"The officers were confronted with a difficult situation — about 70 teen-agers engaged in a noisy party with considerable evidence of drinking.

"We know this type of party can lead to serious trouble, for example, rioting and assaults. The officers were right in breaking it up. The preferable course would have been to send the teen-agers home and notify the parents.

"As far as the decision of this (district attorney's) office is concerned, the son of a judge should receive the same treatment as anybody else — no better and no worse. In the past this office has refused to prosecute minors where the evidence was insufficient. We have prosecuted where there was adequate evidence, and will continue to do so.

"I have discussed the situation with the sheriff and we concur that Section 849 (b) (1) of the Penal Code be utilized. This section provides that a peace officer may decide to take no further action when he is satisfied that there is no ground for making a criminal complaint against the person arrested. The use of this section will have the legal effect of making the acts in question detentions rather than arrests. The young people involved will be able to state hereafter, if asked, for example, in a job application, that they had not been arrested."

District Attorney Garety said several of the girls came to his office to relate that they had just arrived at the party and had not been drinking at all when the officers rounded them up. One of them was Roberta Giacomini, 18, daughter of the county recorder. She said she and two girl friends had just entered the home and were standing in the hallway when arrested.

Garety said the Business and Professions Code charge (of illegal liquor possession) does not apply because this was in a private home, not in a public place. A disturbing the peace charge would not stand up because witnesses and investigators cannot pinpoint individual acts of disturbance, the district attorney explained.

A neighbor who telephoned the complaint told the district attorney: "I don't know any of the individuals, but I was just trying to protect my property . . . I was afraid somebody might get hurt."

His wife is quoted as saying, "It was my feeling that the party should have been stopped, the kids sent home, and that would be the end of the matter."

Said Sheriff Louis P. Mountanous, whose men led the raid: "When my office is informed of any noisy drinking parties, we're going to break it up completely, because if you let it go, it could lead to something."

The sheriff said he talked to the judge's son, who said he just invited a few friends "but word must have got around," and before he knew it, 15 carloads of youths were at his home.

The seats of Ludy, Chairman William D. Fusselman, Peter Behr and Byron W. Leydecker will be up for election in the June primary.

Hugh Dougherty, president of the Stinson Beach Progressive Club which opposes the proposed shift of its community from Behr's third district to Ludy's expanded forth, asked that the entire question be sent back to another redistricting advisory committee for further study. Dougherty said that population equalization had not been given enough consideration under the last committee.

The suggestion was countered when Fusselman said that the supervisors most often represent unincorporated areas in the business they discuss, in which case some of the less populated districts such as Ludy's fourth are more equal in representation to Fusselman's city-filled second with few unincorporated areas.

Cars Collided After 1st Crash

The car of Dorothy Leone Hafslund of 865 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, collided with another car Monday only after the other car had hit a car in front and stopped traffic, she reported today.

Yesterday's Independent-Journal erroneously reported her southbound car hit a car ahead of her on East Francisco Boulevard near Medway in San Rafael and the car ahead "in turn" hit the rear of another car.

"It was the first accident that cause me to get injured," she said. "I couldn't stop in time to avoid hitting the car that already was stopped ahead of me."

the floor when she was bowling. The linen was dirty.

"I wanted to fix it. I began to rip out the rotting wood, and I ordered new lumber to fix it.

"The owners are old. They didn't want changes. They promised to help me buy new building materials. But when the bill came, they wouldn't pay. They said I wasn't meant to do anything but caretaking."

"I had to pay a $64 laundry bill for linens I sent out to be cleaned because they refused to pay.

'CLUB NOT FIT'

"The club isnot fit to go in. They plan an anniversary dance Sept. 15, and it is not safe to put those people in the club. I will go to the district attorney if necessary to prevent it."

"We decided Mr. Castleberg is not the person we thought he was," Leo F. Schwab, club president, said today.

"He's trying to make trouble. It's absolutely not called for. He was not authorized to spend any money for anything without our permission first. We didn't give permission for anything."

The club is run by a board of nine directors who are also part owners.

"He started repairs he didn't finish," added Schwab. "We didn't give him any authorization. There may be a few problems. But we clean up when it's necessary to clean up," Schwab said.

"My brother was a member 10 years ago," said Castleberg. "He put up scaffolding to wash the windows, and it's still there."

The club is situated between Panoramic Highway and Edgewood near a residential area.

Castleberg has been ordered by the directors to leave the club by Saturday. A widower, he has lived there since taking the job.

"They have cut my hands," he said. "My dream is not possible to fulfill.

Castleberg added he has also notified the county fire department. "Rubbish is heaped around the grounds," he said.

TREATY

opposition votes numbering somewhat less than the 20 he originally looked for.

The committee will issue a written report next Tuesday or Wednesday which will contain "understandings and interpretations" dealing with continued U.S. preparations to resume atmospheric tests if Russia or any other country should violate the pact. It has been signed by 83 nations.

Among other things, the report will contain a statement that the treaty will not prevent the United States, or any country, from using nuclear weapons in wartime. Concern on this point had been voiced by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and others.

The report will summarize testimony taken during the hearings and give the majority's recommendations on ratification. Long, who said he reserved the right to change his mind but now opposes the pact, could issue a minority report.

'Anti-Cheating' Park Meters Are Opposed

San Rafael Chamber of Commerce directors are opposed to the installation of "anti-cheating" parking meters "at this time."

Directors are scheduled to state their opposition to the device offered by Traffic Controls Inc. at the San Rafael City Council meeting Tuesday.

Directors decided to recommend against the meters at a meeting Tuesday, Jack Phillips, secretary-manager, said.

Directors felt that the devices would not increase parking space and could jeopardize the goodwill of customers, he said.

Instead of recommending a priority list for parking projects, directors recommended that the city have D. Jackson Faustman, parking consultant, bring his original study up to date in light of the proposed use of the city hall site for parking.

Phillips said the study could be completed in two weeks. Both recommendations by the directors were made after a three-month study by the Streets, Highway and Parks Committee and Property Owners and Tenants Council.

Three Aircrews Will Compete

Three aircrews from the 349th Carrier Wing Reserve, with headquarters at Hamilton Air Force Base, will participate in the seventh annual Reserve Troop Carrier Competition Sept. 8-11 at Clinton County AFB in Ohio.

Lt. Col. Billy C. Means of Novato, director of operations for the 349th Troop Carrier Wing Reserve, will direct the crews in competition.

Crews from 13 other Air Force Reserve wings will compete as individual crews and as three-crew teams.

Julian Davidson, banjo player in "The Lucy Show" orchestra, was a featured musician with the late Ben Bernie's band.

JUST '2-WEEK JOB'

Highway Crew Foreman Ending 42-Year Career

When Jack Barrett, foreman of the state highway maintenance crew at Point Reyes Station, retires tomorrow, he'll be finishing a "two-week job" he started 42 years ago.

Barrett was living on a ranch in Petaluma, near a state highway maintenance station, in 1921 when the foreman asked him to help out on a concrete culvert for a couple of weeks.

From then on, he has been with the State Division of Highways continuously.

The only time he came close to leaving was during World War II when he was "almost drafted."

Barrett recalls the days when wheelbarrows and teams of horses were used in contrast to today's tractors, trucks and graders.

He has spent 27 years of his career working out of Point Reyes and lays claim to being the man who painted the first white, center line along the old Corte Madera grade.

"Back in 1925 there was a slide that closed the railroad tunnel and the Corte Madera grade was closed for a couple of days," he said. "There are fewer slides now, because they cutback."

He also recalls clearing snow from the roads along Mount Tamalpais and the 1955 floods that closed Highway 1 at Stinson Beach five times in a week.

The 64-year-old Barrett said he'll start taking things easy after tomorrow, but not too easy. "I'll keep active," he said.

As foreman of the Point Reyes Station he has been responsible for patching, re-construction and clearing of 52 miles of state roads including Highway 1 from Stinson Beach to the Marin-Sonoma county line, Mount Tamalpais, Samuel P. Taylor Park and Tomales Bay State Bark.

A native of Anaconda, Mont., Barrett was raised in Petaluma and worked as a milk wagon driver and rock crusher before taking the state highway job.

After his start at Petaluma as a truck driver, he worked up to foreman within a year and in 1922 was transferred to Larkspur where he stayed until 1927.

From 1927 until 1936, he was at the state highway maintenance station at Schellville in Sonoma County, and then he started his long run at Point Reyes where he headed a six-man crew.

Abe Bertolozzi who has been at the Fort Ross maintenance station for the past three years will replace Barrett as foreman. Bertolozzi formerly served at the Sierraville Station for 25 years.

"I'll turn in my key, my Civil Defense card and my radio card tomorrow," Barrett said. Then he expects to work around "his place" at Point Reyes or maybe "travel a bit."

Fly ash, the tiny material which comes principally from smokestacks, has been found to be useful as an aggregate in concrete and concrete blocks.

Dixie Board Not Sure On Unification

The Booz-Allen and Hamilton report on North Marin school district unifications leaves a lot of work still undone, Dixie School District trustees decided last night.

After looking at the consultant firm's final report which recommends one unified district of San Rafael and Dixie schools and another of Novato and San Jose schools, the Dixie trustees agreed "the report did not make a case either for or against the proposed reorganization."

"A lot of information is presented," said Supt. Dennie B. Willis, "but the report does not say why the two unified districts should be better than any other plan, including the present set-up. If we are not going to improve education, why reorganize?"

The trustees were unanimous in their opinion that they and Willis will now have "to go to work to gather necessary back-up information to determine whether the firm's proposal is a good one."

Willis said the board was "insistent that before a proposal would go to the State Board of Education or before the voters, there should be a case made for it, and there was no case made in this report."

A kindergarten addition to the Lucas Valley School at a cost of $34,415 was accepted by the board after completion by Fostmeier Construction oC. The district now has 10 kindergarten classrooms for the more than 500 kindergarten pupils expected to enroll next month.

Dixie trustees also:

1. Accepted the resignation of Mrs. Pauline Cadd, first grade teacher at the Santa Margarita School, who is moving from the area. Appointment of Mrs. Christine Gazulis of Boston, Mass., was authorized to replace Mrs. Cadd.

2. Approved renewal of the district's contract with educational television station KQED for $785. Programs in mathematics, foreign languages and science are used for instruction of fourth, fifth and sixth grade students.

3. Delayed membership in the California School Boards Assn. until they learn reasons for the increase for annual dues from $50 to $310.

4. Authorized employment of Robert J. Silverman, San Francisco State College graduate, to teach science halftime at the Vallecito School.

ACTRESS STAYS YOUNG AT 53 BY LIVING

LONDON (AP) — American actress Joan Bennett, in London to rehearse a play, says she's 53 years old and doesn't care who knows it.

"I drink whisky, smoke 30 cigarettes a day and don't diet," she said in an interview.

How does she keep looking so young?

"By getting eight hours sleep a day and having young children around me."

Bagley Says Unruh Future Is In Doubt

Actions by Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh (D-Los Angeles) in the closing days of the legislature cast his "political future in California in doubt," Assemblyman William T. Bagley (R-San Rafael) said today.

Speaking at a morning meeting of the Novato Chamber of Commerce, Bagley said, "If Unruh was going to run for governor, he ought to think again. After that display of power, his political future in California is in doubt."

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Controller Alan Cranston and Attorney General Stanley Mosk were also criticized by Bagley.

"The governor said that there would be no new taxes, but the program which was pushed through the legislature added 207 million dollars in new taxes," Bagley said. "I don't know what he calls that."

Bagley said that Mosk is torn between the ambition to become governor or be appointed chief justice to the State Supreme Court. Cranston and Unruh were working against each other for control of the Democratic Party, he stated.

"If the Democrats cut themselves up, maybe we can again form a good government league," Bagley concluded.

He described the struggle for power between Brown, Cranston, Mosk and Unruh "a fratricidal war."

Panelists Agree Better Bus Service Great Marin Need

Panelists on radio station KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" this morning generally agreed that better bus service was the greatest transit need in the county but they were undecided as to the best method of procuring it.

"Under present state law," said Mrs. Margaret Azevedo, chairman of Metropolitan Problems of the county Civic Affairs Committee, "it is the opinion of County Counsel Warren McGuire that we can do very little. However, we intend to try again to get an enabling bill passed, at the next session ofthe legislature."

Gov. Edmund G. Brown recently vetoed a bill which would have enabled Marin County supervisors to form a transit district.

Thomas Hardcastle of Novato, a member of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District board, brought up the idea of expanding the capacity of the bridge: "Engineers have made some studies (of this possibility) and feel that a second deck accommodating four additional lines of traffic could be built."

San Francisco officials dislike the idea because it "would further complicate the traffic situation through the Marina and other areas to the San Francisco business district. . . . I think it is heartening, however, that the San Francisco supervisors have just agreed to make a very careful study of building subsurface freeways."

The other two panelists on the program were Robert Nisbet, attorney for the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District (A-C Lines) and Israel Gilboa of De Leauw Cather, San Francisco engineering consultants who were instrumental in setting up the A.C system.

Both expounded the virtues of such a system and suggested that Marin might do well to model its attempts to solve transit problems after the A-C district.

"The land use characteristics in Marin County," contended Gilboa, "point to bus service as the most feasible solution. Buses, being small units, flexible in their movements, can efficiently serve the many residential communities.

"There are several reasons why the A-C system has shown such a remarkable performance (it is the only bus system in the United States which is experiencing an annual increase in patronage): First is the fast and dependable service. Second is the frequency of service, and third is the equipment, the majority of which is new, attractive and of modern design.

"Finally," Gilboa concluded, "the cost is low." Prices are cheap, he continued, but the daily revenue pays for daily costs.
paid through taxes.

"The cost to the taxpayers in our district," said Nisbet, "is 12½ cents per $100 evaluation."

In answer to a question about present bus service in Marin, Nisbet claimed that "Greyhound is not as interested in commuter service as they are in long hauls. Before we established the A-C system, they told us emphatically that they did not intend to increase local service."

KTIM will rebroadcast the program, moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer, Sunday at 12:30

Boys Arm Broken As Truck Rolls

A 16-year-old Terra Linda boy suffered a broken left arm when the one-and-one-half ton truck he was riding in rolled over in Lucas Valley at 7 p.m. yesterday.

Brent Schacherl of 710 Penny Royal Lane was treated at San Rafael General Hospital.

The boy was riding west in a truck driven by Douglas W. Sayer, 17, of 107 Vendola Drive, Santa Venetia, when it left Lucas Valley Road about four miles west of Highway 101, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The truck, a flatbed 1951 model with sides that have a wide overhang, is owned by young Sayer, who contracts to haul rock, sawdust and other materials. He had just completed a job and was on his way home and was giving a ride to his schoolmate.

Sayer said he veered off the road when he saw an approaching small British sports car and feared the truck overhang might strike it.

The truck flipped after hitting an embankment. Sayer was cited for excessive speed.

The American college fad of stuffing students into telephone booths has a counterpart in northern India. Youth Leaps To Death, Another Is Held Back

John Michael Fulle, 19, of Oakland, reportedly despondent over a one-month separation from his wife, stopped his car on the Golden Gate Bridge at 6:35 p.m. yesterday, ran to the railing and jumped to his death.

It was the 249th known suicide from the span. Three Marin County residents were in cars behind Fulle's, but none could stop him. "We didn't have a ghost of a chance," Peter W. Hart, 201 D Street, San Rafael, told California highway patrolmen.

Three and a half hours later a soldier stationed at the Presidio was taken into custody after he stopped his car and started running down the west sidewalk, shouting, "Leave me alone.!"

Also witnessing Fulle's jump were Bruno Franchetti, 31 Dorset Lane, Mill Valley, and Mr. and Mrs. Angus Dun Jr., 39 Corte Baristo, Greenbrae.

Hart said he saw the body floating for a minute, then disappear. The Coast Guard gave up its search after 40 minutes.

Fulle was driving his father's car. He was identified by papers found in the car, accordlng to patrolman Donald Greer.

About 10 p.m. tow truck drivers Raymond Parker and Donald Russell reported seeing Robert Carleton, 23, stop his car and run along the sidewalk, shouting. Carleton, stopped by CHP officer T. W. Foley, said he had just been released from a psychiatric ward.

Carleton was taken to Letterman General Hospital in the Presidio.

Almonte Sanitary Tax Rate Drops

A drop of six cents per $100 assessed valuation in the tax rate for the Almonte Sanitary District was approved last night by district directors.

The new rate of 30 cents per $100 assessed valuation was lowered from 36 cents because of a jump in property valuation in the district, according to Director Frank R. Little.

Directors last night accepted Little's resignation. Elected to the board last September, he told members he is moving to Mill Valley. The board is expected to appoint a replacement at its next meeting at 8 p.m. Sept. 23.

Corte Maderan Booked For Contributing

A 67-year-old Corte Madera man was booked into Marin County jail last night on suspicion of contributing to the delinquency of a minor after Larkspur police said he sold three six-packs of malt stout to an 18-year-old Los Alamitos youth.

Howard Joseph Scheib of 83 Pixley Avenue obtained release in $525 bail for appearance in Marin Municipal court tomorrow.

Dixie Board Not Sure On Unification

The Booz-Allen and Hamilton report on North Marin school district unifications leaves a lot of work still undone, Dixie School District trustees decided last night.

After looking at the consultant firm's final report which recommends one unified district of San Rafael and Dixie schools and another of Novato and San Jose schools, the Dixie trustees agreed "the report did not make a case either for or against the proposed reorganization."

"A lot of information is presented," said Supt. Dennie B. Willis, "but the report does not say why the two unified districts should be better than any other plan, including the present set-up. If we are not going to improve education, why reorganize?"

The trustees were unanimous in their opinion that they and Willis will now have "to go to work to gather necessary back-up information to determine whether the firm's proposal is a good one."

Willis said the board was "insistent that before a proposal would go to the State Board of Education or before the voters, there should be a case made for it, and there was no case made in this report."

A kindergarten addition to the Lucas Valley School at a cost of $34,415 was accepted by the board after completion by Fostmeier Construction oC. The district now has 10 kindergarten classrooms for the more than 500 kindergarten pupils expected to enroll next month.

Dixie trustees also:

1. Accepted the resignation of Mrs. Pauline Cadd, first grade teacher at the Santa Margarita School, who is moving from the area. Appointment of Mrs. Christine Gazulis of Boston, Mass., was authorized to replace Mrs. Cadd.

2. Approved renewal of the district's contract with educational television station KQED for $785. Programs in mathematics, foreign languages and science are used for instruction of fourth, fifth and sixth grade students.

3. Delayed membership in the California School Boards Assn. until they learn reasons for the increase for annual dues from $50 to $310.

4. Authorized employment of Robert J. Silverman, San Francisco State College graduate, to teach science halftime at the Vallecito School.

Marin Youth Picks Liberia For Corps Duty

Believes Africa Is Important, Pivotal Area

By GLENN BECKER

After completing 600 hours of training in 10 weeks, a 23-year-old Corte Madera resident will leave Monday morning for New York on the first leg of a two-year sojourn with the Peace Corps in Liberia.

Why Liberia?

Charles R. Stuart's answer to that question provides an insight into the motives of the people who volunteer to spend two years of their lives in helping underdeveloped nation:

"I chose Africa because it's something we don't know much about, and I want to know something about it. It's an important part of the world, a pivotal area."

TAM GRADUATE

Stuart lives at 20 Grove Avenue, Corte Madera, with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley J. Stuart. He was graduated from Tamalpais High School and College of Marin, and received his B.A. degree from San Francisco State College, where he majored in social studies and minored in history.

Asked when he got the idea to join the Peace Corps, Stuart said, "It's been in my mind off and on since Kennedy proposed it in 1960. I wanted to complete my schooling first, though, and didn't get serious about it until about six months ago.

"I applied then, took the standard Peace Corps test, and within three weeks was in training.

10 WEEKS

"There were 210 who started the training at Syracuse University, including 130 teachers, 60 public administrators and about 20 lawyers. When we completed the 10 weeks, 160 were left."

The training curriculum included American studies, teachers' training, teaching experience in "culturally deprived" areas of Syracuse, N.Y., and area studies of Liberia, covering its politics, history, relations with the other African countries and the United States, and its internal problems.

Stuart and the other corpsmen will leave for Monrovia, the capital of Liberia, Tuesday.

Hope Of Finding Bova Soon Flickers For While—Then Dies

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP) — Hope of finding Louis Bova alive soon flickered for a moment today, then died out, as rescuers probed with renewed determination for the miner's fate through four separate shafts.

The crews were electrified for an instant when Daniel Bova, a brother of the 54-year-old Louis, said he thought he heard a voice calling out weakly, "Hello, hello," over a sensitive microphone lowered into one hole.

Bova was entombed Aug. 13 more than 300 feet down in the nearby Sheppton coal mine with David Fellin, 58, and Henry Throne, 28. Fellin and Throne were recuperating in Hazleton State Hospital after their dramatic rescue early Tuesday.

A tape recording of the sound Daniel Bova heard was played back, with the volume increased. It turned out to be only sand sifting down an underground slope.

Enlargement of the 12-inch escape shaft was started this morning, and those supervising the operation said it might take two days to complete. This hole was bored into the chamber yesterday, chewing into the area where Bova may have been trapped. He has been without food all this time, and with only brackish water to drink.

In the making, too, are three other holes, one six and a half inches in diameter, the other two three inches across.

H. Beecher Charmbury, state mines secretary, said it is planned to ream the 12-inch hole to 30 inches for the first 38 feet, then insert steel casing to that depth. After the rest of the hole will be enlarged to a width of 22 inches.

Charmbury said a man may be sent down the 22-foot stretch of the shaft.

Officials would not say who the man might be but among the volunteers are David Fellin, 58, recuperating in Hazleton State Hospital since his rescue Tuesday from the cave-in, and a brother of Bova.

The drilling probes, patterned from a rough map of the mine supplied by Fellin, lie in a triangle. The three-inch hole and the 12-inch hole are about 15 feet apart. The six-inch hole is on another line 10 feet from the large hole.

Moab Rescue Attempts Temporarily Suspended

MOAB, Utah (AP) — Attempts to reach five reported survivors of a potash mine explosion were temporarily suspended today to establish a fresh air pocket at the base of a 2,700 foot mine shaft.

State Mine Commissioner Casper Nelson said work on the air base may take 24 hours, and during that time rescuers would not go into the tunnels.

Nelson's announcement followed the finding of eight bodies last night, dimming the hope of tired, grimy rescue workers, who had pushed their search since the explosion Tuesday afternoon. One body was brought up today.

The blast trapped 25 men in Texas Gulf Sulphur Co.'s 35-million-dollar potash mine. Two were rescued yesterday in good condition.

They said five of their companions were alive after the blast, barricaded behind debris about 2,100 feet into one of two tunnels extending laterally and downward from the main shaft.

Fate of the 10 remaining miners was unknown.

Nelson blamed carbon monoxide for the miners' deaths.

"We are not abandoning hope," Nelson said.

"We have been unsuccessful in attempts to reach the five men believed to be alive behind a barricade . . . We plan to go back to our original plan of establishing a fresh air base at the bottom of the shaft from which we can work . . . We should have followed this procedure 24 hours ago," he added.

Those saved were Donald Hanna, 27, of Price, Utah, and Paul McKinney, 22, of Moab.

Now it's up to the Senate . . . and You!

A treaty ending nuclear weapons tests is now before the United States Senate for ratification. In their meetings in Moscow, the United States, the Soviet Union and Great Britain have agreed that a treaty outlawing nuclear tests in the atmosphere, under water and in outer space is in their interest and in the interest of world peace.

According to the laws of the land, a treaty does not become effective until ratified by a two-thirds majority of the U.S. Senate. There is every reason why the Senate should ratify this agreement unanimously and soon:

A test ban treaty will put an end to widespread radioactive fallout from nuclear testing. Present and future generations will be spared additional reproductive damage and bone cancer. Little can be done about what has already occurred.

The spread of nuclear weapons and their development by new nations will be slowed, reducing the chances of nuclear war.

But most important—the world will have taken the first step to end the suicidal nuclear arms race.

A test ban can signal an historic turning point. There is evidence that the test ban agreement represents a breakthrough of moderate and responsible opinion both within the United States and the Soviet Union. This development provides an opportunity to begin the real work of building peace. The treaty opens wide the door to next steps—more important and far-reaching steps for lessening world tension and for achieving universal and controlled disarmament.

Only world security under a stronger United Nations can take the place of national insecurity, the arms race, and the rule of fear. The world will not be safe until "the war flags are furled in the Parliament of Man."

Five years ago, the National Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy was formed to seek these ends. A nuclear test ban treaty was then, and is now, first on its list of national priorities.

We congratulate the men who have secured this vital agreement. We are proud of our role in its achievement. We look forward to redoubled efforts by our nation to achieve safeguarded, worldwide disarmament.

The moral leadership of the world belongs to the nation which shows the way, step by practical step, to build the edifice of peace. The first step is now up to the United States Senate. By ratifying the treaty, the Senate can make clear the will of the American people to seek a just and lasting peace under honorable and safeguarded agreements. The Senate will act with due caution and after careful review. it is necessary to the Senate's decision that the lawmakers know where the country stands and what its citizens will support.

This is where you come in. Write three letters and write them now. One each to your Senators, and one to President Kennedy, indicating in your own words, your support for the test ban agreement.

Hope Of Finding Bova Soon Flickers For While—Then Dies

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP) — Hope of finding Louis Bova alive soon flickered for a moment today, then died out, as rescuers probed with renewed determination for the miner's fate through four separate shafts.

The crews were electrified for an instant when Daniel Bova, a brother of the 54-year-old Louis, said he thought he heard a voice calling out weakly, "Hello, hello," over a sensitive microphone lowered into one hole.

Bova was entombed Aug. 13 more than 300 feet down in the nearby Sheppton coal mine with David Fellin, 58, and Henry Throne, 28. Fellin and Throne were recuperating in Hazleton State Hospital after their dramatic rescue early Tuesday.

A tape recording of the sound Daniel Bova heard was played back, with the volume increased. It turned out to be only sand sifting down an underground slope.

Enlargement of the 12-inch escape shaft was started this morning, and those supervising the operation said it might take two days to complete. This hole was bored into the chamber yesterday, chewing into the area where Bova may have been trapped. He has been without food all this time, and with only brackish water to drink.

In the making, too, are three other holes, one six and a half inches in diameter, the other two three inches across.

H. Beecher Charmbury, state mines secretary, said it is planned to ream the 12-inch hole to 30 inches for the first 38 feet, then insert steel casing to that depth. After the rest of the hole will be enlarged to a width of 22 inches.

Charmbury said a man may be sent down the 22-foot stretch of the shaft.

Officials would not say who the man might be but among the volunteers are David Fellin, 58, recuperating in Hazleton State Hospital since his rescue Tuesday from the cave-in, and a brother of Bova.

The drilling probes, patterned from a rough map of the mine supplied by Fellin, lie in a triangle. The three-inch hole and the 12-inch hole are about 15 feet apart. The six-inch hole is on another line 10 feet from the large hole.

Moab Rescue Attempts Temporarily Suspended

MOAB, Utah (AP) — Attempts to reach five reported survivors of a potash mine explosion were temporarily suspended today to establish a fresh air pocket at the base of a 2,700 foot mine shaft.

State Mine Commissioner Casper Nelson said work on the air base may take 24 hours, and during that time rescuers would not go into the tunnels.

Nelson's announcement followed the finding of eight bodies last night, dimming the hope of tired, grimy rescue workers, who had pushed their search since the explosion Tuesday afternoon. One body was brought up today.

The blast trapped 25 men in Texas Gulf Sulphur Co.'s 35-million-dollar potash mine. Two were rescued yesterday in good condition.

They said five of their companions were alive after the blast, barricaded behind debris about 2,100 feet into one of two tunnels extending laterally and downward from the main shaft.

Fate of the 10 remaining miners was unknown.

Nelson blamed carbon monoxide for the miners' deaths.

"We are not abandoning hope," Nelson said.

"We have been unsuccessful in attempts to reach the five men believed to be alive behind a barricade . . . We plan to go back to our original plan of establishing a fresh air base at the bottom of the shaft from which we can work . . . We should have followed this procedure 24 hours ago," he added.

Those saved were Donald Hanna, 27, of Price, Utah, and Paul McKinney, 22, of Moab.

Negro Labor Aide

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Howard Jenkins Jr., 48, was sworn in today as the first Negro member of the National Labor Relations Board. Jenkins began his five-year term by taking the oath of office from Supreme Court Justice Arthur J. Goldberg.

Lord Brain Taking Over Science Group

ABERDEEN, Scotland (AP) — The British Assn. for the Advancement of Science, which has been protesting against a "brain drain" of British scientists to the United States, elected a new president at its annual meeting yesterday.

He is a noted physician, and his name is Lord Brain.

Lombardi Youth Fined For Drinking Party

Peter Oliver Lombardi, 19, son of a Miller and Lux estate heiress, must pay $105 fine for creating a disturbance last June at a drinking party near Corte Madera.

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court sentenced the youth yesterday for disturbing the peace and illegal possession of liquor. Sheriff's deputies raided the Casa Buena Motel about 3 a. m. last June 12, flushing a bevy of teen-agers. Lombardi came out the door but others scattered from windows.

The youth's father is Oliver M. Lombardi, 51, a San Francisco land developer. His mother is Mary Nickel Lombardi, who inherited part of the Miller and Lux millions.

The couple got their final decree of divorce last July, and both have since re-married, he in San Francisco and she in Hawaii.

Young Lombardi told the judge he got into trouble because of domestic difficulties at home. He now lives with his father and new step-mother in San Francisco. "I am very happy where I live now," he told Judge Harold J. Haley.

The new step - mother, Emma-Gail Lombardi, likewise assured the judge she is willing to take the youth under her wing and help him. "It is a pleasure to have him in the household. He is a most responsible boy," the new Mrs. Lombardi testified.

Judge Haley fined the youth and put him on two years supervised probation, with a 30-day jail term hanging over his head if he violates probation. Another condition of probation is that the youth continue taking psychiatric treatments from a Berkeley psychiatrist.

'TIS BETTER TO GIVE THAN RECEIVE . . .

DODGEVILLE, Wis. (AP)— More than 20 residents of this southwestern Wisconsin city with a population 2,500 have received from $80 to $100 in cash in envelopes bearing no return address from an unknown benefactor.

Ray Reese, Iowa County sheriff, said that the envelopes were deposited in the Dodgeville Post Office and no trace of the sender has been found.

There has been no set pattern in the donations. They have gone to widows, young married couples and single persons.

No one is complaining, Reese added.

Businessman Must Appear In Court On Attack Charge

John B. Castillo, 43, Oakland businessman, will appear in Marin Superior Court Monday on a charge of forcibly raping a 50-year-old woman at Tomales Bay last May.

The woman, an Oakland secretary, testified against him at a preliminary hearing yesterday before Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court. She said he hired her to work for him, then drove her to Tomales Bay State Park and to the Point Reyes Peninsula on Saturday, May 25. She said she met him for the first time only a few days before the incident.

She testified he attacked her several times, then held her in the car until daybreak Sunday before taking her back to Oakland.

Castillo, on the other hand, insisted he had known her for a year and a half and had dated her in the past. He denied using any force.

The judge ordered Castillo bound over to superior court for trial. He is being held in Marin County Jail in lieu of $2,625 bail. Salinas officials also want to question him on suspicion of not supporting his family.

Vietnamese Might Lift Martial Law In Buddhist Crisis

Saigon Says Cooperation Of Foreign Press Needed

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAIGON, Viet Nam — The military governor of Saigon said today martial law will be lifted as soon as there is evidence that the Buddhist crisis is over—and that this would demand cooperation of the foreign press.

Brig. Gen. Ton That Dinh did not elaborate, but implied he wanted an end to news stories critical of the regime of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

Dinh, in command of Saigon since Aug. 20 when martial law was imposed, also released figures on the number of persons arrested in the government's crackdown on Buddhists, who had demonstrated for months against Diem, a Roman Catholic.

He told newsmen 825 monks, nuns, novice nuns and Buddhist followers were arrested in raids on Saigon's pagodas by troops and police Aug. 20-21. But he said he believed 300 to 400 monks and nuns were released shortly after and others would be freed soon.

Dinh said 1,380 students and other Buddhist followers were arrested as they gathered for another anti-Diem demonstration last week in Saigon.

Meanwhile, the public dispute between South Viet Nam and the United States deepened today with a government charge that Washington had distorted the crackdown on Buddhists.

President Diem's government said the U. S. State Department's assessment of the situation here was "unjust" and based on erroneous information.

The quarrel over who led the raids on Buddhist pagodas last week and rounded up thousands of Buddhist leaders has kept U. S. policy in flux and has aroused concern that the Diem government's struggle against the Communists might be adversely affected.

Mill Valley Planners Pass Store

Mill Valley planning commissioners approved a request from Nathan Erb to build a car parts sales store at 475 Miller Avenue and for Lloyd L. Seitzinger to add two units to a house at 20 Millwood Street, an area zoned for apartments.

Commissioners in their meeting Tuesday night also took a first look at a list of planning projects for which the city might receive federal money under an urban planning assistance grant.

John D. Erickson, planning consultant, asked commissioners to set up a priority list for discussion at the next meeting Sept. 24 among these four projects: a general plan for east Mill Valley; an emergency revision of the existing zoning map; preparation of a specific application for the federal grant and aid to the parks and recreation commission if it wishes help in planning.

The commission also:

1. Approved a lot split on Eton Way in Scott Valley Unit One requested by George Davi.

2. Set hearings at 8 p.m. Sept. 24 for rezoning in the Highlands annexation and for a progress report on zoning of 1.400 acres in North Ridge for planned one-family residences.

Kentfield School Signups Slated

Children who will attend classes in Kentfield School District for the first time may enroll any week day from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. from now until start of school on Sept. 10, Supt. Howard C. Harmon announced today.

Registration will be at the principals' offices in Adaline E. Kent, Wolfe Grade- and Greenbrae schools.

Also, any pupils who attended school in the district last year and did not receive a class assignment should call at his office, said Harmon.

Auto Lot Thefts

Thefts of a radio, tire jacks, spare wheels and a tire from cars in the lot of Delong Chevrolet Inc., 550 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, were reported yesterday to San Rafael police by manager Troy W. Austin. Austin said the thefts occurred sometime Tuesday night. Value of the stolen items, he said, was $197.48.

No Further Pesticide Poisoning Expected

BERKELEY (UPI) — State health officials said today they expected no further pesticide poisoning of farm workers in the Central Valley.

Sixty peach-pickers in Stanislaus County were treated in recent weeks after working on trees that had been sprayed with the pesticide parathion. There were no deaths. The pesticide affected the leaves, not the peaches.

A health department spokesman said parathion deteriorates rapidly and no longer poses a threat.

"The picking is moving northward to Butte County where the spraying wasn't quite so heavy," he said. "We don't expect any more problems, but we are keeping a watch on it."

No illnesses were reported in the past two weeks.

The health and agriculture departments are conducting tests of the leaves and foliage from Stanislaus County orchards which could result in new state recommendations to county commissioners of agriculture.

These recommendations would cover time-spacing and amounts of pesticide that may be applied per acre. Under current law, a farmer must receive a permit from his county commissioner before he can use parathion.

A State Department of Agriculture spokesman said the state might incorporate amounts and time-spacing restrictions into state regulations covering applications of parathion and 13 other pesticides classified as "injurious materials."

MARIN FIRE CALLS

YESTERDAY:

5:25 p.m., San Rafael—Faulty air conditioning unit caused smoke scare at Redwood National Bank, Fourth and E streets.

6:43 p.m., Novato—Frying pan on range caught fire at home of Richard Minehan, 919 Scott Street; minor damage to walls from smoke.

Report Fails To Show Drugs In Woman's Body

A toxicology report failed to show any signs of drugs in the body of a Point Reyes Station mother found floating Aug. 11 in Paper Mill Creek, Asst. Coroner William Bradley reported today.

He said the cause of death of Mrs. May Pensotti, Cypress Road, has been listed as asphyxial-type drowning, a case where little or no water enters the lungs. Her body was found by three hunters in the creek on the Harold Ganazzi Ranch.

Demo Aide Says Unruh At Pinnacle

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh has reached the pinnacle of his political power, according to Tom Carvey, president of the California Democratic Council.

Carvey, in an address yesterday before the San Diego County Democratic Council, said there was growing concern by fellow Democrats over Unruh.

"I do not retract my position that Jesse Unruh is a man driven by insatiable lust for political power," said Carvey, whose organization of some 70,000 members is one of the largest groups of political volunteers in the nation.

Negroes Face Task Of Bringing Action

Civil Rights March Orderly And Dramatic

By STANLEY MEISLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The historic civil rights march on Washington—massive and orderly and moving—has dramatized the wants of Negroes in America, but leaders still faced the task today of trying to turn drama into action.

Speaker after speaker told the 200,000 Negro and white sympathizers massed in front of the Lincoln Memorial yesterday that their demonstration was no more than a beginning.

"Those who hope that the Negro needed to blow off steam and will now be content," said the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., "will have a rude awakening if the nation returns to business as usual."

Demonstrators and their leaders made it clear that one sign of progress, in their view, would be congressional approval of President John F. Kennedy's civil rights bill. But there was no evidence that the demonstration would move the Congress into any faster consideration of the bill.

Kennedy, like the civil rights leaders, also talked in terms of a beginning. He met with King and the other civil rights leaders after the demonstration and said, "We have a long way yet to travel."

But the president also said "the cause of 20 million Negroes has been advanced by the program so appropriately before the nation's shrine to the Great Emancipator."

Kennedy, in his statement, spoke of the demonstration's "quiet dignity," and this was the element of the day that probably most impressed the city of Washington.

Police had three minor arrests—none of a demonstrator.

By 9 p.m., Washington police reported the city normal, and relieved almost all special police details from duty.

The day was a long one, and it was filled with gaiety and song and fervor. At times it seemed like a Sunday picnic; at others, like a church revival; at others, like a political rally. The crowds had patience and enthusiasm.

At the height of the ceremonies, the crowds massed far east along the lengthy pool that reflects the Washington Monument and far north almost to the State Department and far south near the parkways by the Potomac River. Some demonstrators lolled behind the Lincoln Memorial and listened to the songs and speeches over the loudspeakers.

After the demonstration, A. Randolph, 74, Negro director of the march and president of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, said: "the march has already achieved its objective. It has awakened and aroused the conscience of the nation."

There was some conflict not visible to the crowds at the Lincoln Memorial.

A demonstration leader, John Lewis, told a newsman later that he was forced to rewrite his speech because the Most Rev. Patrick A. O'Boyle, Roman Catholic archbishop of Washington, had objected to it.

Lewis, 23, a Negro, is chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, one of the youngest and most militant of the civil rights organizations.

Lewis said Archbishop O'Boyle, who delivered the invocation, had told march leaders he would not appear on the same platform with Lewis if his prepared speech was delivered as written. Lewis said the prelate considered the speech revolutionary.

Lewis said a meeting was called of the civil rights leaders, and he was forced to give in. When he gave his speech, he left out such comments as:

"We cannot depend on any political party, for both the Democrats and the Republicans have betrayed the basic principles of the Declaration of Independence."

There was no evidence that Congress would respond quickly to this demand. Although some legislators like Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said the demonstration would help pass the bill, others said it would not affect passage one way or another.

And the House Judiciary Committee, with so many members taking off for their Labor Day weekend, decided to postpone consideration of the bill until Sept. 9.

Quinn Off Again With Girl Crew

HILO, Hawaii (AP)—A California steeplejack who prefers all-girl crews for his ocean cruises —and has his wife's consent— once more was Tahiti-bound yesterday in his 45-foot ketch.

One of the four women in the Neophyte's crew slipped on deck and hurt her back after the Aug. 17 departure from Honolulu, causing a five-day layover in Hilo. Tuesday afternoon the 36-year-old skipper, Lee Quinn, of Los Gatos, and the four-girl crew resumed the voyage.

Quinn said a doctor gave clearance to the injured woman, Mrs. Bernice Berkson, 37, of San Diego.

But there was one change in crew at Hilo. The new fourth mate is Barbara Jones, 34, a former Texas rodeo rider. She replaces Sheree Lawrence, 22, Philadelphia photographer and reporter. Quinn said the change was due to a "combination of factors."

Miss Jones, of San Antonio, Tex., is on her way to live in Australia.

The other two members of the current crew are Ava Walker, 22, Honolulu anthropology student, and Kathy Eckman, 21, Anaheim stenographer.

Quinn began his all-girl cruising when he sailed the Neophyte from Sausalito to meet his wife in Hawaii where she was entered in the international surfboard competition. None of the original crew are on the present cruise.

Ted Mack of "The Amateur Hour" was captain of the football and basketball teams, and class president for three years, in his Denver high school days.

MICROSURGERY

Marin Gets New Medical Frontier

A new microscope that can focus on delicate tissues of the eye and ear makes it possible for surgeons at Marin General Hospital to perform operations never attempted there before.

Called the Zeiss Otoscope Microscope, the instrument opens a new medical frontier: microsurgery. It magnifies up to 40 times, and specially trained surgeons can perform delicate operations under its lenses which are focused on the interior of the eye or ear.

"The Zeiss enables us to work on portions of the body so small that previously we could hardly see them," said Dr. Alexander H. Beaton of San Rafael, one of the surgeons who has used the microscope. "It can be used for corneal transplants, and doctors are exploring its use for neurosurgery and vascular surgery."

"In ordinary surgery," Beaton said, "lenses will magnify two to three times. The Zeiss gives us binocular vision, and it's quite a difference working on an area which has been magnified 20 to 40 times."

The microscope was purchased by Marin General two months ago for about $5,000. During that time it has been used to restore hearing to persons with damaged ear drums.

Through microsurgery, a 40-year-old man's ear drums, destroyed by an infection, were reconstructed by using a tiny piece of vein from the man's arm.

Such minute vein grafting would not be possible without the new microscope, Beaton said.

Nearly a year is required for surgeons to learn to use the microscope. "There is a special technique involved in using instruments through a microscope," said Beaton. "Under a microscope, a minute part of the anatomy appears gigantic, and moving a surgical instrument a millimeter appears like moving it a mile."

Woman Spends 90 Days In Cave

PERTH, Australia (AP)—Dorothy Williams emerged from Ngilgi Cave at Yallingup, 165 miles south of Perth, yesterday after setting a world record of 90 days underground.

"I have proved that women can endure solitude as well as men," she said.

Miss Williams, 35, exceeded by three days the previous record, set in the same cave last May by Wymdham Rendell.

Catholic Schools Are Integrated

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP)—Roman Catholic schools here were formally integrated today but only 15 or 202 eligible Negro students volunteered to attend mixed classes.

None of the 15 put in personal appearances at the church-operated elementary schools. White children attended to register, but the registration of the 15 Negroes was handled out of school.

Sonoma-Marin Pact Sought On Aqueduct

The Marin Municipal Water District board yesterday instructed William R. Seeger, general manager, to work up an agreement with Sonoma County for building a Sonoma-Marin aqueduct.

Seeger will work with Jerome B. Gilbert, district manager of the North Marin County Water District, and Sonoma County authorities "to develop an agreement of understanding" between the two counties.

Preliminary plans for the 65-million-dollar project which would bring water into Marin County from the Dry Creek project on the Russian River, have already been shown directors. The directors of MMWD and the North Marin Water District have been authorized by the board of supervisors to represent the county in negotiations.

Representatives of the two districts will meet with William Warne, head of the State Department of Water Resources, on Oct. 3 to discuss the alternate North Bay Aqueduct project.

The Marin Municipal Water District board also:

1. Approved plans and specifications to relocate 1,150 feet of 21 - inch pipe adjacent to the Northgate Shopping Center.
2. Authorized purchase of a pump control valve for the San Geronimo Plant from Henry Pratt Co. of Chicago, Ill., for $2,731.
3. Purchased 16 tapping valves and tapping sleeves from the Groeniger Co. of Oakland for $1,509.37.
4. Authorized purchase of 239 cast iron fittings from Water Works Supply Co. of Union City for $4,296.50.
5. Approved a contract with General Supply Co. to supply liquid alum to the treatment plant for $43.39 a ton.
6. Accepted four right of way deeds for pipeline extensions.
7. Approved eight pipeline extensions, including Indian Rock Unit 1 in Sleepy Hollow, with 44 service connections, for $57,000 and Terra Linda Unit 20, with 44 service connections, for $90,000.

In the Civil War, the sons of Presidents Tyler and Taylor served for the South and President Jackson's son served for the Union.

DISARM TALKS GO INTO RECESS

Delegates Hopeful Of New Pact; Final Session For U.S. Chief

GENEVA (UPI)—The 17-nation disarmament conference today began a two-month recess with delegates optimistic over chances of new East-West agreements soon.

The talks here were suspended for the duration of disarmament discussions which will take place at the United Nations General Assembly which starts Sept. 17.

Delegates agreed that the Geneva conference should resume within a week after the talks at the U.N. end. Spokesmen said this probably would be some time in November.

Today's session was the final one here for U.S. Chief Delegate Charles C. Stelle, who expects a new assignment after returning to Washington.

The 14 delegates from other nations who spoke at the four-hour session all thanked Stelle for his work during the four years he has been connected with the Geneva negotiations.

Stelle, in turn, thanked the delegates and expressed his "appreciation to my old and valued friend (Soviet Chief Negotiator Semyon K.) Tsarapkin."

Stelle discarded a prepared speech to save time, a U.S. spokesman said.

Tsarapkin thanked Stelle "for his efforts towards agreement and wished him luck," the spokesman said.

Airman Saves Family In Canal

HANFORD (AP) — A Vandenburg Air Force sergeant won a desperate struggle to save himself, his wife and their four small children when their car plunged into an irrigation canal last night.

The Highway Patrol said T/Sgt. Donald Grajek, 33, was driving on Highway 41 north of Kettleman City when a tire blew.

The car swerved into the large canal, submerging all but one foot of the car.

Grajek pulled himself and his wife to the surface, then swiftly made four more dives and brought up the four children one at a time.

The children's ages ranged from six months to four years.

None of the family was injured.

Retreat Parade Set For Retiring Soldier

A special Retreat parade will be held Friday at Fort Mason, San Francisco, for U.S. Army Sgt. 1/C Daniel C. Mulcahy of 511 Browning Court, Mill Valley, who is retiring after 20 years of service.

Mulcahy was twice awarded the Army Commendation Medal and won six battle stars in the Korean War. He was a member of military units that received one Presidential and two Distinguished Unit citations. He will join the staff of U.S. Marshal Edward A. Heslep in San Francisco as a deputy.

Man Is Innocent In Assault Trial

An unemployed Mill Valley man, accused of swinging a wrench at a woman cook last June, is innocent of felony assault, a jury decided yesterday in Marin Superior Court.

Nine women and three men deliberated for about an hour and returned a not guilty verdict for George Kotch, 55, of 411 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley. Public Defender Peter Allen Smith defended Kotch in a two-day trial before Judge Richard M. Sims Jr.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Donald E. Paterson Jr. contended that Kotch was guilty of felony assault for swinging a wrench at Emma Mickens, 41, who worked as cook at Faber's Restaurant in Mill Valley last June 30. Miss Mickens had known him for about four years.

One of the four women in the Neophyte's crew slipped on deck and hurt her back after the Aug. 17 departure from Honolulu, causing a five-day layover in Hilo. Tuesday afternoon the 36-year-old skipper, Lee Quinn, of Los Gatos, and the four-girl crew resumed the voyage.

Quinn said a doctor gave clearance to the injured woman, Mrs. Bernice Berkson, 37, of San Diego.

But there was one change in crew at Hilo. The new fourth mate is Barbara Jones, 34, a former Texas rodeo rider. She replaces Sheree Lawrence, 22, Philadelphia photographer and reporter. Quinn said the change was due to a "combination of factors."

Miss Jones, of San Antonio, Tex., is on her way to live in Australia.

The other two members of the current crew are Ava Walker, 22, Honolulu anthropology student, and Kathy Eckman, 21, Anaheim stenographer.

Quinn began his all-girl cruising when he sailed the Neophyte from Sausalito to meet his wife in Hawaii where she was entered in the international surfboard competition. None of the original crew are on the present cruise.

Ted Mack of "The Amateur Hour" was captain of the football and basketball teams, and class president for three years, in his Denver high school days.

MICROSURGERY

Marin Gets New Medical Frontier

A new microscope that can focus on delicate tissues of the eye and ear makes it possible for surgeons at Marin General Hospital to perform operations never attempted there before.

Called the Zeiss Otoscope Microscope, the instrument opens a new medical frontier: microsurgery. It magnifies up to 40 times, and specially trained surgeons can perform delicate operations under its lenses which are focused on the interior of the eye or ear.

"The Zeiss enables us to work on portions of the body so small that previously we could hardly see them," said Dr. Alexander H. Beaton of San Rafael, one of the surgeons who has used the microscope. "It can be used for corneal transplants, and doctors are exploring its use for neurosurgery and vascular surgery."

"In ordinary surgery," Beaton said, "lenses will magnify two to three times. The Zeiss gives us binocular vision, and it's quite a difference working on an area which has been magnified 20 to 40 times."

The microscope was purchased by Marin General two months ago for about $5,000. During that time it has been used to restore hearing to persons with damaged ear drums.

Through microsurgery, a 40-year-old man's ear drums, destroyed by an infection, were reconstructed by using a tiny piece of vein from the man's arm.

Such minute vein grafting would not be possible without the new microscope, Beaton said.

Nearly a year is required for surgeons to learn to use the microscope. "There is a special technique involved in using instruments through a microscope," said Beaton. "Under a microscope, a minute part of the anatomy appears gigantic, and moving a surgical instrument a millimeter appears like moving it a mile."

Woman Spends 90 Days In Cave

PERTH, Australia (AP)—Dorothy Williams emerged from Ngilgi Cave at Yallingup, 165 miles south of Perth, yesterday after setting a world record of 90 days underground.

"I have proved that women can endure solitude as well as men," she said.

Miss Williams, 35, exceeded by three days the previous record, set in the same cave last May by Wymdham Rendell.

Catholic Schools Are Integrated

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP)—Roman Catholic schools here were formally integrated today but only 15 or 202 eligible Negro students volunteered to attend mixed classes.

None of the 15 put in personal appearances at the church-operated elementary schools. White children attended to register, but the registration of the 15 Negroes was handled out of school.

Sonoma-Marin Pact Sought On Aqueduct

The Marin Municipal Water District board yesterday instructed William R. Seeger, general manager, to work up an agreement with Sonoma County for building a Sonoma-Marin aqueduct.

Seeger will work with Jerome B. Gilbert, district manager of the North Marin County Water District, and Sonoma County authorities "to develop an agreement of understanding" between the two counties.

Preliminary plans for the 65-million-dollar project which would bring water into Marin County from the Dry Creek project on the Russian River, have already been shown directors. The directors of MMWD and the North Marin Water District have been authorized by the board of supervisors to represent the county in negotiations.

Representatives of the two districts will meet with William Warne, head of the State Department of Water Resources, on Oct. 3 to discuss the alternate North Bay Aqueduct project.

The Marin Municipal Water District board also:

1. Approved plans and specifications to relocate 1,150 feet of 21 - inch pipe adjacent to the Northgate Shopping Center.
2. Authorized purchase of a pump control valve for the San Geronimo Plant from Henry Pratt Co. of Chicago, Ill., for $2,731.
3. Purchased 16 tapping valves and tapping sleeves from the Groeniger Co. of Oakland for $1,509.37.
4. Authorized purchase of 239 cast iron fittings from Water Works Supply Co. of Union City for $4,296.50.
5. Approved a contract with General Supply Co. to supply liquid alum to the treatment plant for $43.39 a ton.
6. Accepted four right of way deeds for pipeline extensions.
7. Approved eight pipeline extensions, including Indian Rock Unit 1 in Sleepy Hollow, with 44 service connections, for $57,000 and Terra Linda Unit 20, with 44 service connections, for $90,000.

In the Civil War, the sons of Presidents Tyler and Taylor served for the South and President Jackson's son served for the Union.

DISARM TALKS GO INTO RECESS

Delegates Hopeful Of New Pact; Final Session For U.S. Chief

GENEVA (UPI)—The 17-nation disarmament conference today began a two-month recess with delegates optimistic over chances of new East-West agreements soon.

The talks here were suspended for the duration of disarmament discussions which will take place at the United Nations General Assembly which starts Sept. 17.

Delegates agreed that the Geneva conference should resume within a week after the talks at the U.N. end. Spokesmen said this probably would be some time in November.

Today's session was the final one here for U.S. Chief Delegate Charles C. Stelle, who expects a new assignment after returning to Washington.

The 14 delegates from other nations who spoke at the four-hour session all thanked Stelle for his work during the four years he has been connected with the Geneva negotiations.

Stelle, in turn, thanked the delegates and expressed his "appreciation to my old and valued friend (Soviet Chief Negotiator Semyon K.) Tsarapkin."

Stelle discarded a prepared speech to save time, a U.S. spokesman said.

Tsarapkin thanked Stelle "for his efforts towards agreement and wished him luck," the spokesman said.

Airman Saves Family In Canal

HANFORD (AP) — A Vandenburg Air Force sergeant won a desperate struggle to save himself, his wife and their four small children when their car plunged into an irrigation canal last night.

The Highway Patrol said T/Sgt. Donald Grajek, 33, was driving on Highway 41 north of Kettleman City when a tire blew.

The car swerved into the large canal, submerging all but one foot of the car.

Grajek pulled himself and his wife to the surface, then swiftly made four more dives and brought up the four children one at a time.

The children's ages ranged from six months to four years.

None of the family was injured.

Retreat Parade Set For Retiring Soldier

A special Retreat parade will be held Friday at Fort Mason, San Francisco, for U.S. Army Sgt. 1/C Daniel C. Mulcahy of 511 Browning Court, Mill Valley, who is retiring after 20 years of service.

Mulcahy was twice awarded the Army Commendation Medal and won six battle stars in the Korean War. He was a member of military units that received one Presidential and two Distinguished Unit citations. He will join the staff of U.S. Marshal Edward A. Heslep in San Francisco as a deputy.

Man Is Innocent In Assault Trial

An unemployed Mill Valley man, accused of swinging a wrench at a woman cook last June, is innocent of felony assault, a jury decided yesterday in Marin Superior Court.

Nine women and three men deliberated for about an hour and returned a not guilty verdict for George Kotch, 55, of 411 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley. Public Defender Peter Allen Smith defended Kotch in a two-day trial before Judge Richard M. Sims Jr.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Donald E. Paterson Jr. contended that Kotch was guilty of felony assault for swinging a wrench at Emma Mickens, 41, who worked as cook at Faber's Restaurant in Mill Valley last June 30. Miss Mickens had known him for about four years.

DIXIE DISTRICT IDEAS — A challenge to provide the "best of education" for students of the Dixie School District has been voiced by Supt. Dennie B. Willis. Dixie's Willis 'Challenges' Teachers, Community

Story and Photos
By ELLEN BRY

Dennie B. Willis, superintendent of the Dixie School District, has thrown down a "challenge" to teachers and the community to "provide the best of education for the Dixie district."

The challenge is in the form of a plan propounded by Willis which would lengthen the present district school year by 10 days, require most or all teachers to teach summer school every third year and attend certain classes in the summer in return for a 10 per cent pay rise, and add 20 cents to the taxpayers school bill.

The plan was proposed in a meeting of teachers, district board members and a few parents Tuesday.

Said Willis later: "Now I'm just going to sit back and see what happens—let it percolate. It'll either take off or it'll die."

The main points of the plan:

1. Lengthen the school year from the present 180 days in the district to 190 days. (The state requirement for elementary schools is 175 day sessions; all elementary districts in the country go over the requirement with a high of 183 days in the Sausalito and Fairfax districts to a low of 176 days in the San Rafael elementary school district.)

"Those 10 days are worth more than they appear," Willis said.

Under Willis's proposals, not all the extra time would be used for strictly class teaching. He envisions days when teachers could use the time for consultations with the parents at their home or at the school.

"I have maintained for years that education must be a joint effort of parents and teachers. The pressures of modern society don't allow parents and teachers to really get to know each other.

"There is a need to bring back the associations that kids used to have with the world. They knew what dad was doing and helped him with it. If they went down the street and got in trouble, they got called out right away.

"It isn't so today, and somebody has to provide it."

2. Willis would use some of the additional time put in by teachers for "clinic" aid to children:

"We've got kids in the school who, if they could sit down with the teacher on a one-to-one basis and talk so the teacher could get to know what makes the kid not tick, or read, could be helped.

"It could save lots of human beings."

No "extra" staff or professional psychologists would be hired, under the superintendent's proposal. "This is where I differ with everybody in my profession—I don't want more staff.

"The only one who knows the kid, who is around, who knows the background, who sees him all the time—that's the teacher."

The clinic type, one-to-one ratio also would be used to aid students having reading difficulties or problems with learning "numbers."

3. The extra time put in by teachers might be used to establish language classes, such as the one Willis himself will teach beginning this fall. The superintendent will teach Spanish to volunteer students of the seventh or eighth grades who are willing, twice a week, to remain 45 minutes longer than the normal school day.

The district has taught Spanish in summer school sessions for the past seven years and in various classes during the regular sessions when qualified teachers were available.

Willis looks toward his self-assigned teaching task with verve. "I'm going to see if I can get these kids excited enough to want to learn a language. When we find the ability to do that, we can become bilingual. There is no reason now for kids to learn a language—I'm just going to try to give 'em one."

"It's been about 15 years since Willis has used the Spanish he once taught in high school. Asked if he were cramming, he replied: "No, I don't want to take advantage of the kids."

"We don't believe that anybody knows how to teach a language. The object of it is to speak a foreign language and we haven't found any kids who could.

"The key is going to be—kids have to have a purpose in learning a language other than because daddy wants them to."

4. The teachers would gain a 10 per cent permanent, yearly pay hike if they agree to teach summer school once every three years. Summer school teaching now is a voluntary job paying $500 for the five weeks of extra classes. But teachers also would have to attend one five-to-six week workshop during one summer to be eligible for the pay hike.

5. The teacher workshops would show newly hired teachers the district's method of teaching certain studies and keep present employees abreast of advances in teaching techniques. Only one year's attendance at the workshops would be required, but teachers could earn college credit and so eventually gain further pay raises as already provided in the district for study.

"The thing that I'm after in the enticement of the extra salary is to get the best minds in our universities to come here during summer school (for teachers)," Willis said.

The first such workshop probably would be "to help teach our teachers how to teach that dirty word 'social studies,'" the superintendent said. "How the Buddhist lives in Ceylon, how the Indian lives in India, history—these kids today will have to be the leaders tomorrow to understand all the cultures of the world.

"These kids have to learn why people are living as they do because they'll have to deal with them—we're dealing with the Congo now and Viet Nam—I only wish we knew more about what we're dealing with.

"And the parents get involved with it — they can't help it—it's a chain reaction."

Other workshops might show district teachers different techniques for teaching mathematics."

6. Ask the taxpayer of the district to back the program with a 20-cent rise in tax rates. The district now is levying the maximum operating tax rate approved by voters, $2.45. In addition, bond and debt retirement, various personnel retirement funds, state required special education funds bring the total rate this year to $3.03, down 19 cents from last year.

If Willis's plan is approved by the trustees of the district and by the Dixie Teachers Assn., voters may go to the polls next spring to answer Willis's challenge.

Streamlining Supervisors Is Proposed By Leydecker

New supervisor Byron W. Leydecker proposed a streamlining of supervisorial procedures and future consolidation of the many taxing districts in Marin in a speech last night.

"I am appalled with the extent to which the board of supervisors concerns itself with petty details," he told 18 members of the Marinwood Assn. who met at the Mary E. Silviera School.

"This is asininity," he said, referring to the board's consideration of tiny details and communications which he said should usually be handled on the administrative level.

"The board should consider reviewing its procedures and delegating authority to the administrative staff," he suggested, while board members use their meeting time to consider the long-range goals of the county from "presentations" by county personnel and experts in land use and other problems.

He called the present set-up "woefully inadequately coordinated" between departments and supervisors for solving long-range problems.

Leydecker also urged that residents of the area consider the problem of overlapping authorities of the various sanitation, fire, community services, county services, city and other districts which have "considerable overlapping and lack of direction."

The supervisor said he favored a combined city-county of Marin in the far future, but doubted that it would come about in reality.

Dixie's Willis 'Challenges' Teachers, Community

Story and Photos
By ELLEN BRY

Dennie B. Willis, superintendent of the Dixie School District, has thrown down a "challenge" to teachers and the community to "provide the best of education for the Dixie district."

The challenge is in the form of a plan propounded by Willis which would lengthen the present district school year by 10 days, require most or all teachers to teach summer school every third year and attend certain classes in the summer in return for a 10 per cent pay rise, and add 20 cents to the taxpayers school bill.

The plan was proposed in a meeting of teachers, district board members and a few parents Tuesday.

Said Willis later: "Now I'm just going to sit back and see what happens—let it percolate. It'll either take off or it'll die."

The main points of the plan:

1. Lengthen the school year from the present 180 days in the district to 190 days. (The state requirement for elementary schools is 175 day sessions; all elementary districts in the country go over the requirement with a high of 183 days in the Sausalito and Fairfax districts to a low of 176 days in the San Rafael elementary school district.)

"Those 10 days are worth more than they appear," Willis said.

Under Willis's proposals, not all the extra time would be used for strictly class teaching. He envisions days when teachers could use the time for consultations with the parents at their home or at the school.

"I have maintained for years that education must be a joint effort of parents and teachers. The pressures of modern society don't allow parents and teachers to really get to know each other.

"There is a need to bring back the associations that kids used to have with the world. They knew what dad was doing and helped him with it. If they went down the street and got in trouble, they got called out right away.

"It isn't so today, and somebody has to provide it."

2. Willis would use some of the additional time put in by teachers for "clinic" aid to children:

"We've got kids in the school who, if they could sit down with the teacher on a one-to-one basis and talk so the teacher could get to know what makes the kid not tick, or read, could be helped.

"It could save lots of human beings."

No "extra" staff or professional psychologists would be hired, under the superintendent's proposal. "This is where I differ with everybody in my profession—I don't want more staff.

"The only one who knows the kid, who is around, who knows the background, who sees him all the time—that's the teacher."

The clinic type, one-to-one ratio also would be used to aid students having reading difficulties or problems with learning "numbers."

3. The extra time put in by teachers might be used to establish language classes, such as the one Willis himself will teach beginning this fall. The superintendent will teach Spanish to volunteer students of the seventh or eighth grades who are willing, twice a week, to remain 45 minutes longer than the normal school day.

The district has taught Spanish in summer school sessions for the past seven years and in various classes during the regular sessions when qualified teachers were available.

Willis looks toward his self-assigned teaching task with verve. "I'm going to see if I can get these kids excited enough to want to learn a language. When we find the ability to do that, we can become bilingual. There is no reason now for kids to learn a language—I'm just going to try to give 'em one."

"It's been about 15 years since Willis has used the Spanish he once taught in high school. Asked if he were cramming, he replied: "No, I don't want to take advantage of the kids."

"We don't believe that anybody knows how to teach a language. The object of it is to speak a foreign language and we haven't found any kids who could.

"The key is going to be—kids have to have a purpose in learning a language other than because daddy wants them to."

4. The teachers would gain a 10 per cent permanent, yearly pay hike if they agree to teach summer school once every three years. Summer school teaching now is a voluntary job paying $500 for the five weeks of extra classes. But teachers also would have to attend one five-to-six week workshop during one summer to be eligible for the pay hike.

5. The teacher workshops would show newly hired teachers the district's method of teaching certain studies and keep present employees abreast of advances in teaching techniques. Only one year's attendance at the workshops would be required, but teachers could earn college credit and so eventually gain further pay raises as already provided in the district for study.

"The thing that I'm after in the enticement of the extra salary is to get the best minds in our universities to come here during summer school (for teachers)," Willis said.

The first such workshop probably would be "to help teach our teachers how to teach that dirty word 'social studies,'" the superintendent said. "How the Buddhist lives in Ceylon, how the Indian lives in India, history—these kids today will have to be the leaders tomorrow to understand all the cultures of the world.

"These kids have to learn why people are living as they do because they'll have to deal with them—we're dealing with the Congo now and Viet Nam—I only wish we knew more about what we're dealing with.

"And the parents get involved with it — they can't help it—it's a chain reaction."

Other workshops might show district teachers different techniques for teaching mathematics."

6. Ask the taxpayer of the district to back the program with a 20-cent rise in tax rates. The district now is levying the maximum operating tax rate approved by voters, $2.45. In addition, bond and debt retirement, various personnel retirement funds, state required special education funds bring the total rate this year to $3.03, down 19 cents from last year.

If Willis's plan is approved by the trustees of the district and by the Dixie Teachers Assn., voters may go to the polls next spring to answer Willis's challenge.

Streamlining Supervisors Is Proposed By Leydecker

New supervisor Byron W. Leydecker proposed a streamlining of supervisorial procedures and future consolidation of the many taxing districts in Marin in a speech last night.

"I am appalled with the extent to which the board of supervisors concerns itself with petty details," he told 18 members of the Marinwood Assn. who met at the Mary E. Silviera School.

"This is asininity," he said, referring to the board's consideration of tiny details and communications which he said should usually be handled on the administrative level.

"The board should consider reviewing its procedures and delegating authority to the administrative staff," he suggested, while board members use their meeting time to consider the long-range goals of the county from "presentations" by county personnel and experts in land use and other problems.

He called the present set-up "woefully inadequately coordinated" between departments and supervisors for solving long-range problems.

Leydecker also urged that residents of the area consider the problem of overlapping authorities of the various sanitation, fire, community services, county services, city and other districts which have "considerable overlapping and lack of direction."

The supervisor said he favored a combined city-county of Marin in the far future, but doubted that it would come about in reality.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

New Oral Test, Tolbutamide Pill, Aids In Borderline Diabetes Test

VAN DELLEN

A new oral test for diabetes utilizes a tolbutamide tablet. It is reported to be easy to perform, safe, and most important—accurate.

This gives us three different procedures to make the diagnosis of diabetes and it is difficult to say which will be preferred.

The diabetic suspect is asked to fast overnight and report to the physician in the morning. A blood specimen is obtained and tablets containing sodium tolbutamide (Oriase) and sodium bicarbonate are swallowed. Blood tests for sugar are made every 10 minutes for 60 minutes. Tolbutamide is an antidiabetic pill and lowers the blood sugar levels. Diabetics have higher readings over a longer period of time than do nondiabetics.

THE GLUCOSE tolerance test has been the old standby for many years. The man or woman is given a sugar solution to drink and samples of blood and urine are studied before and for several hours thereafter. In reality this is a determination of how the body handles this type of carbohydrate.

The nondiabetic responds in the normal way — the blood sugar level rises rapidly as the solution is absorbed from the stomach. It may go fairly high but begins to fall within an hour as the body utilizes the sugar. The same thing happens in the diabetic except that the sugar level remains high for a longer period because the body lacks insulin and cannot utilize the sugar.

THESE TESTS are used mainly to diagnose borderline cases of diabetes. They are seldom needed when the blood sugar is elevated and large amounts are noted in the urine. In addition, many diabetics are overweight when the disease is noted originally. Some are aware that something is amiss because excess thirst makes them drink more and more water, and they pass large volumes of urine.

The tests are suggested most often when a routine urinalysis is positive for sugar. This is the start of any diabetes detection drive and a blood test for sugar is suggested as the next step. If the diagnosis still is questioned, the oral or intravenous tolbutamide test is done or the older glucose tolerance test.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

SALMONELLOSIS

H. W. writes: What can you tell me about Salmonella poisoning?

REPLY

There are many types of Salmonella organisms which are acquired by consuming contaminated food or drink. Some cause symptoms of food poisoning; others lead to typhoid fever.

DRY MOUTH

M. S. writes: Will high blood pressure medicine make the mouth dry?

REPLY

Side effects occur with many of the antihypertensive drugs but dry mouth is not a common reaction. The exception perhaps is dibenzyline.

ICED DRINKS

Mrs. J. H. A. writes: Are iced drinks and food, including milk and ice cream, harmful for young children?

REPLY

No. The gastric juices warm cold items readily. But too much iced fluids may cause painful abdominal spasms.

HEART ENLARGEMENT

Mrs. H. writes: Could a person have an enlarged heart for years without suffering from a heart attack?

REPLY

Yes, and this occurs frequently in victims of high blood pressure or rheumatic heart disease.

Shaving Man Target Of U.S. Razor Makers

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Beatniks are out. But every shaving man is a target in the battle of the chins. All of the big U.S. razor blade makers are now in the stainless steel fracas started more than a year ago by a British invader.

The long lasting blade has been relatively scarce and regarded by some of its users as a status symbol.

The stainless steel blades and their older brothers made of carbon steel are now likely to be engaged in more of an economic battle. The struggle will be keenest between the competitive American makes.

The victory may go to performance, or to retail price, or to cost of production and distribution—or to the willingness of the American male to change his ways.

The giant provider of the older and familiar razor blade, the Gillette Company, with about 70 per cent of the American market, says it will enter the stainless steel blade contest in New York and Philadelphia next week and across the nation by October.

Merchandising the new multiple shave item since February are Shick subsidiary of Eversharp and American Razor Division of Philip Morris.

Starting the whole thing on this side of the Atlantic was a British sword maker. Blades made by Wilkinson Sword Ltd., a hit in England, were first imported in March 1962 and sold by American outlets for its better known products, garden tools.

Advertised by word of mouth, they caught on fast and were hard to find.

But American production methods may soon make them commonplace.

Performance ultimately will be judged by the American males, each one doubtless convinced that his own chin is a special and peculiar problem.

Price differentials, at least at the start of the contest, are these: Wilkinson's usually sell at five for 75 cents or 15 cents a blade.

Shick's and American razor's Personna double-edged blades are regularly priced at five for 79 cents. Gillette says it will retail its stainless steel blades at six for 89 cents, making them the cheapest at 14.83 cents a blade. The older, carbon steel, double edged blades range from 3.5 cents to 6.9 cents a blade.

Production costs are the secrets of the competing companies, but the stainless steel blades are more difficult and more expensive to make. The American firms already had been making stainless steel blades in the mills of their European subsidiaries.

Their new or converted American plants are reported capable of turning out many times the number of blades that Wilkinson has been allotting to its American market.

Cigarette Machine Emptied Of Coins

A coin thief broke into a cigarette machine at the Tamalpais Valley Launderette sometime Tuesday night. Sheriff's Deputy C. H. Lima reported yesterday.

Lima checked the laundry firm at Dolan's Corner, 265 Shoreline Highway, about 5 o'clock this morning and discovered the cigarette machine had been pried open. The empty coin box lay in the waste basket.

Indonesia Enters Very Crucial Time

By TONY ESCODA

JAKARTA (AP)—Indonesia is entering what could be the most crucial period of its development since it declared its independence 18 years ago.

Competent observers say the time probably has never been more ripe for an all-out effort by Indonesian leaders to pull this Southeast Asian country up by its bootstraps — with some foreign help.

This thinking is based on:

1. The return of stability and security to the regions of the country which had been plagued by military rebellions since 1957, and years before by Moslem terrorists.

2. The end of the West Irian New Guinea crisis and its heavy drain on the nation's resources.

3. A clearing up of the political situation—near chaos six or seven years ago—with President Sukarno and his "guided democracy" regime still firmly in the saddle.

The Communist Party, whose claimed membership of two and one-half million makes it the biggest outside the Iron Curtain, poses a potential threat.

But Sukarno keeps it at arm's length. An effective balance is provided by the 400,000-man armed forces under non-Communist leadership.

The biggest problem now facing this country of 3,000 islands — with oil, rubber and other natural sources of wealth—is economic. Economists put the blame largely on the government's past preoccupation with politics at home and abroad.

A tentative step has been taken with the launching of an economic stabilization campaign. Most of it still is on paper, and it is possible the West Irian crisis might still be replaced by a similar militant and costly confrontation with Malaya over the Malaysia issue.

As in the case of West Irian, the United Nations has taken a hand in trying to bring about a peaceful Malaysia settlement.

The United Nations is to run a survey in Sarawak and North Borneo, the two British-ruled territories tabbed as partners of Malaya and Singapore in the new federation. Sukarno has pegged his acceptance of Malaysia on U.N.-determined popular support for it in the territories, which border on this country.

Sukarno has embraced the concept of a loose confederation of Malay states. This would include Malaysia and the Philippines, but with Indonesia as the biggest partner with the biggest voice.

Western diplomats welcome the attitude Indonesia is displaying toward the staunchly pro-American Philippines, as well as other neighbors such as Thailand and Pakistan.

Those three belong to SEATO, the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization which always has been a dirty word in Sukarno's non-aligned dictionary.

One educated guess is that at least part of Indonesia's goodwill toward the West can be traced to a need for assistance in financing its economic program.

Economic experts note that Soviet-bloc credits—used chiefly for military equipment and nonproductive prestige projects such as Jakarta's huge sports complex—are not the kind needed to shore up this country's shaky economy.

Runaway prices and spiraling inflation have made life grim for the average Indonesian, particularly on crowded Java island, which holds 60 per cent of the country's 100 million population.

Despite recent indirect devaluation of the rupiah to the rate of 315-$1, Jakarta residents insist the black market rate of about 900$-1 is more realistic. Only a few months ago it hit 1,250 to $1.

The typical wage earner finds half his monthly salary going to buy his staple—rice.

A new shirt is a luxury for a casual laborer, who gets the equivalent of five U.S. cents a day, when he can find work.

The government last May issued a set of sweeping regulations designed to increase production and exports, curb price rises and stem inflation.

Stabilization moves have led to a loan from the International Monetary Fund, which is making 50 million dollars available over a one-year period. At least six times that amount in foreign aid is hoped for, mostly from the United States.

Marin Family Of Six Takes Trip Abroad

Anyone planning to tour Europe and the Mid-East in a small car with a family of six, including a baby in diapers, might want a briefing first from Dr. Cornelius Weber, College of Marin English and philosophy instructor.

Weber, with his wife Marcelle, his mother-in-law Mrs. Marguerite Andrieu and his children, Paul, 11, Jean, 6, Ann Marie, 4, and Marc Andrieu, 21 months, recently completed a 12,000-mile trip by car through France, Spain, Germany, Austria, Italy, Egypt and Greece.

On leave in the 1962-63 school year to collect material for a history of Western philosophy book, Weber is home with his family in Corte Madera with a suitcase full of color slides, three Italian oil paintings, a hand-hammered Egyptian silver tray and a dog-eared book of notes on the culture, distribution of wealth and people in seven countries.

"Since my book will cover the dawn of history in Egypt, the early Greeks and the Medieval period, Spain, France and Italy, we spent most of our time in those countries," said Weber. "I got about 2,500 slides and some 8mm movies. I'll use a number of the pictures to illustrate the book."

Weber and his family faced an angry Egyptian cop and an equally angry street-corner mob getting one picture. They fled in a scene that might have been lifted from a "B" movie.

"I had just taken a picture of a beggar woman and her child in Port Said when a policeman rushed over and made a grab for my camera," said Weber. "When a mob began to close in, I got my wife to make a run for a horse-drawn taxi.

"Luckily the policeman's attention was diverted and I managed to break away and run for the taxi. We found that Egyptians are particularly sensitive about anyone taking pictures of their women or their poor. We had violated both taboos."

Weber said fear among Egyptians under President Gamal Abdel Nasser is worse than the fear of persons under Francisco Franco in Spain. "It's the kind of tension I noticed when I was in East Germany in the summer of 1957," he said.

"In all the countries we visited except France and Germany, only a handful of people have any power or wealth. In Greece the budget for the royal family is larger than the total spent for all public education."

Weber said he feels differently about U.S. foreign aid as a result of the trip. "We in this country tend to oversimplify our problems," he said. "Too often we think because we have given a country some money we have taken care of its problems.

"From what I saw and heard in Greece, our money isn't finding its way to most of the people. What prosperity there is in Greece is pretty well confined to those whose jobs are tied to the tourist industry."

Weber said having a car is the least expensive and best way to travel in Europe.

"With seven of us we couldn't afford to stay at the city hotels for long," he said. "You also get a very incomplete picture of a country by staying only in the cities."

If you have a small baby and plan to go to Egypt make sure you bring your own baby food, she added. "We packed a month's supply because in Egypt there is no such thing as baby food."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

New Oral Test, Tolbutamide Pill, Aids In Borderline Diabetes Test

A new oral test for diabetes utilizes a tolbutamide tablet. It is reported to be easy to perform, safe, and most important—accurate.

VAN DELLEN

This gives us three different procedures to make the diagnosis of diabetes and it is difficult to say which will be preferred.

The diabetic suspect is asked to fast overnight and report to the physician in the morning. A blood specimen is obtained and tablets containing sodium tolbutamide (Oriase) and sodium bicarbonate are swallowed. Blood tests for sugar are made every 10 minutes for 60 minutes. Tolbutamide is an antidiabetic pill and lowers the blood sugar levels. Diabetics have higher readings over a longer period of time than do nondiabetics.

THE GLUCOSE tolerance test has been the old standby for many years. The man or woman is given a sugar solution to drink and samples of blood and urine are studied before and for several hours thereafter. In reality this is a determination of how the body handles this type of carbohydrate.

The nondiabetic responds in the normal way — the blood sugar level rises rapidly as the solution is absorbed from the stomach. It may go fairly high but begins to fall within an hour as the body utilizes the sugar. The same thing happens in the diabetic except that the sugar level remains high for a longer period because the body lacks insulin and cannot utilize the sugar.

THESE TESTS are used mainly to diagnose borderline cases of diabetes. They are seldom needed when the blood sugar is elevated and large amounts are noted in the urine. In addition, many diabetics are overweight when the disease is noted originally. Some are aware that something is amiss because excess thirst makes them drink more and more water, and they pass large volumes of urine.

The tests are suggested most often when a routine urinalysis is positive for sugar. This is the start of any diabetes detection drive and a blood test for sugar is suggested as the next step. If the diagnosis still is questioned, the oral or intravenous tolbutamide test is done or the older glucose tolerance test.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

SALMONELLOSIS

H. W. writes: What can you tell me about Salmonella poisoning?

REPLY

There are many types of Salmonella organisms which are acquired by consuming contaminated food or drink. Some cause symptoms of food poisoning; others lead to typhoid fever.

DRY MOUTH

M. S. writes: Will high blood pressure medicine make the mouth dry?

REPLY

ICED DRINKS

Mrs. J. H. A. writes: Are iced drinks and food, including milk and ice cream, harmful for young children?

REPLY

No. The gastric juices warm cold items readily. But too much iced fluids may cause painful abdominal spasms.

HEART ENLARGEMENT

Mrs. H. writes: Could a person have an enlarged heart for years without suffering from a heart attack?

REPLY

Yes, and this occurs frequently in victims of high blood pressure or rheumatic heart disease.

Shaving Man Target Of U.S. Razor Makers

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Beatniks are out. But every shaving man is a target in the battle of the chins. All of the big U.S. razor blade makers are now in the stainless steel fracas started more than a year ago by a British invader.

The long lasting blade has been relatively scarce and regarded by some of its users as a status symbol.

The stainless steel blades and their older brothers made of carbon steel are now likely to be engaged in more of an economic battle. The struggle will be keenest between the competitive American makes.

The victory may go to performance, or to retail price, or to cost of production and distribution—or to the willingness of the American male to change his ways.

The giant provider of the older and familiar razor blade, the Gillette Company, with about 70 per cent of the American market, says it will enter the stainless steel blade contest in New York and Philadelphia next week and across the nation by October.

Merchandising the new multiple shave item since February are Shick subsidiary of Eversharp and American Razor Division of Philip Morris.

Starting the whole thing on this side of the Atlantic was a British sword maker. Blades made by Wilkinson Sword Ltd., a hit in England, were first imported in March 1962 and sold by American outlets for its better known products, garden tools.

Advertised by word of mouth, they caught on fast and were hard to find.

But American production methods may soon make them commonplace.

Performance ultimately will be judged by the American males, each one doubtless convinced that his own chin is a special and peculiar problem.

Price differentials, at least at the start of the contest, are these: Wilkinson's usually sell at five for 75 cents or 15 cents a blade.

Shick's and American razor's Personna double-edged blades are regularly priced at five for 79 cents. Gillette says it will retail its stainless steel blades at six for 89 cents, making them the cheapest at 14.83 cents a blade. The older, carbon steel, double edged blades range from 3.5 cents to 6.9 cents a blade.

Production costs are the secrets of the competing companies, but the stainless steel blades are more difficult and more expensive to make. The American firms already had been making stainless steel blades in the mills of their European subsidiaries.

Their new or converted American plants are reported capable of turning out many times the number of blades that Wilkinson has been allotting to its American market.

Cigarette Machine Emptied Of Coins

A coin thief broke into a cigarette machine at the Tamalpais Valley Launderette sometime Tuesday night. Sheriff's Deputy C. H. Lima reported yesterday.

Lima checked the laundry firm at Dolan's Corner, 265 Shoreline Highway, about 5 o'clock this morning and discovered the cigarette machine had been pried open. The empty coin box lay in the waste basket.

Indonesia Enters Very Crucial Time

By TONY ESCODA

JAKARTA (AP)—Indonesia is entering what could be the most crucial period of its development since it declared its independence 18 years ago.

Competent observers say the time probably has never been more ripe for an all-out effort by Indonesian leaders to pull this Southeast Asian country up by its bootstraps — with some foreign help.

This thinking is based on:

1. The return of stability and security to the regions of the country which had been plagued by military rebellions since 1957, and years before by Moslem terrorists.

2. The end of the West Irian New Guinea crisis and its heavy drain on the nation's resources.

3. A clearing up of the political situation—near chaos six or seven years ago—with President Sukarno and his "guided democracy" regime still firmly in the saddle.

The Communist Party, whose claimed membership of two and one-half million makes it the biggest outside the Iron Curtain, poses a potential threat.

But Sukarno keeps it at arm's length. An effective balance is provided by the 400,000-man armed forces under non-Communist leadership.

The biggest problem now facing this country of 3,000 islands — with oil, rubber and other natural sources of wealth—is economic. Economists put the blame largely on the government's past preoccupation with politics at home and abroad.

A tentative step has been taken with the launching of an economic stabilization campaign. Most of it still is on paper, and it is possible the West Irian crisis might still be replaced by a similar militant and costly confrontation with Malaya over the Malaysia issue.

As in the case of West Irian, the United Nations has taken a hand in trying to bring about a peaceful Malaysia settlement.

The United Nations is to run a survey in Sarawak and North Borneo, the two British-ruled territories tabbed as partners of Malaya and Singapore in the new federation. Sukarno has pegged his acceptance of Malaysia on U.N.-determined popular support for it in the territories, which border on this country.

Sukarno has embraced the concept of a loose confederation of Malay states. This would include Malaysia and the Philippines, but with Indonesia as the biggest partner with the biggest voice.

Western diplomats welcome the attitude Indonesia is displaying toward the staunchly pro-American Philippines, as well as other neighbors such as Thailand and Pakistan.

Those three belong to SEATO, the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization which always has been a dirty word in Sukarno's non-aligned dictionary.

One educated guess is that at least part of Indonesia's goodwill toward the West can be traced to a need for assistance in financing its economic program.

Economic experts note that Soviet-bloc credits—used chiefly for military equipment and nonproductive prestige projects such as Jakarta's huge sports complex—are not the kind needed to shore up this country's shaky economy.

Runaway prices and spiraling inflation have made life grim for the average Indonesian, particularly on crowded Java island, which holds 60 per cent of the country's 100 million population.

Despite recent indirect devaluation of the rupiah to the rate of 315-$1, Jakarta residents insist the black market rate of about 900$-1 is more realistic. Only a few months ago it hit 1,250 to $1.

The typical wage earner finds half his monthly salary going to buy his staple—rice.

A new shirt is a luxury for a casual laborer, who gets the equivalent of five U.S. cents a day, when he can find work.

The government last May issued a set of sweeping regulations designed to increase production and exports, curb price rises and stem inflation.

Stabilization moves have led to a loan from the International Monetary Fund, which is making 50 million dollars available over a one-year period. At least six times that amount in foreign aid is hoped for, mostly from the United States.

Marin Family Of Six Takes Trip Abroad

Anyone planning to tour Europe and the Mid-East in a small car with a family of six, including a baby in diapers, might want a briefing first from Dr. Cornelius Weber, College of Marin English and philosophy instructor.

Weber, with his wife Marcelle, his mother-in-law Mrs. Marguerite Andrieu and his children, Paul, 11, Jean, 6, Ann Marie, 4, and Marc Andrieu, 21 months, recently completed a 12,000-mile trip by car through France, Spain, Germany, Austria, Italy, Egypt and Greece.

On leave in the 1962-63 school year to collect material for a history of Western philosophy book, Weber is home with his family in Corte Madera with a suitcase full of color slides, three Italian oil paintings, a hand-hammered Egyptian silver tray and a dog-eared book of notes on the culture, distribution of wealth and people in seven countries.

"Since my book will cover the dawn of history in Egypt, the early Greeks and the Medieval period, Spain, France and Italy, we spent most of our time in those countries," said Weber. "I got about 2,500 slides and some 8mm movies. I'll use a number of the pictures to illustrate the book."

Weber and his family faced an angry Egyptian cop and an equally angry street-corner mob getting one picture. They fled in a scene that might have been lifted from a "B" movie.

"I had just taken a picture of a beggar woman and her child in Port Said when a policeman rushed over and made a grab for my camera," said Weber. "When a mob began to close in, I got my wife to make a run for a horse-drawn taxi.

"Luckily the policeman's attention was diverted and I managed to break away and run for the taxi. We found that Egyptians are particularly sensitive about anyone taking pictures of their women or their poor. We had violated both taboos."

Weber said fear among Egyptians under President Gamal Abdel Nasser is worse than the fear of persons under Francisco Franco in Spain. "It's the kind of tension I noticed when I was in East Germany in the summer of 1957," he said.

"In all the countries we visited except France and Germany, only a handful of people have any power or wealth. In Greece the budget for the royal family is larger than the total spent for all public education."

Weber said he feels differently about U.S. foreign aid as a result of the trip. "We in this country tend to oversimplify our problems," he said. "Too often we think because we have given a country some money we have taken care of its problems.

"From what I saw and heard in Greece, our money isn't finding its way to most of the people. What prosperity there is in Greece is pretty well confined to those whose jobs are tied to the tourist industry."

Weber said having a car is the least expensive and best way to travel in Europe.

"With seven of us we couldn't afford to stay at the city hotels for long," he said. "You also get a very incomplete picture of a country by staying only in the cities."

If you have a small baby and plan to go to Egypt make sure you bring your own baby food, she added. "We packed a month's supply because in Egypt there is no such thing as baby food."

Optimistic Giants Take On L. A.—Bolin Vs. Koufax

The San Francisco Giants, bursting at the seams with optimism, wing their way to Los Angeles today to take on the front-running Los Angeles Dodgers in the big showdown for the National League pennant.

GAME ON TELEVISION
Tonight's game will be televised by KTVU (Channel 2) starting with a pre-game warmup show at 7:30.

With their home run bats booming and the pitchers going the distance, the Giants finished off a nine-game stand yesterday by bombarding the St. Louis Cardinals, 5-3, on the strength of four circuit clouts and Billy O'Dell's six-hit pitching.

Tonight Bob Bolin draws the slightly unenviable task of going to the mound for San Francisco against the great Sandy Koufax of the Dodgers.

Manager Alvin Dark decided on Bolin following his six-inning shutout relief stint against Cincinnati last week. Bolin has been rested since that time.

If the Giants' right-handed ace, Juan Marichal, had come up as tonight's starter under the pitching rotation, the game would have matched two aces battling to see who became the major leagues' first 20-game winner of the season. Marichal gets his shot tomorrow night as he opposes the Dodgers' Don Drysdale.

Koufax has a 2-1 record against San Francisco this season. Both his wins were shutouts and one was a no-hitter. Bolin has no record against Los Angeles.

An almost total lack of hitting support has kept Koufax from winning his last two starts. He allowed a total of two runs in 20⅔ innings. The Dodgers won both games, both by 2-1 scores—one of them in 16 innings—but Koufax's relief got credit for both wins.

Independent-Journal Sports

Thurs., August 29, 1963 17

The Dodgers got eight hits last night, seven of them off one of the National's League's better pitchers, Jim Maloney. But the Dodgers were never in the ball game. Maloney picked up his 19th win, 9-5, joining, in that select circle, Marichal, Whitey Ford of the Yankees, and Koufax. Maloney's five strikeouts boosted his total to 200, and there again he joined 200-plus strikeout leaders Koufax and Drysdale.

In San Francisco yesterday Chuck Hiller hit a homer with a man on in the first inning; Tom Haller hit one in the second and Haller and Orlando Cepeda hit back-to-back homers in the fourth.

All the blows came off Bob Gibson who went the distance and was charged with his eighth defeat against 14 wins. The victory was o'Dell's 12th against six losses.

The Cardinals got a pair of runs in the second on Gibson's two-out double; and picked up one in the seventh on a two-out single by Curt Flood.

SHORT NOTES: Willie Mays' hitting streak was stopped at 13 games in a row . . . and Willie McCovey is in something of a slump with only two hits in his last 23 times at bat . . . yesterday's crowd of 23,462 brought the Giants' home attendance to 1,302,178 . . . Haller hit his two homers with a bat borrowed from Orlando Cepeda . . . Stan Musial was presented with a placque before the game from Horace Stoneham for his "outstanding contributions to the game of baseball." Musial was given a standing ovation that lasted for several minutes when he accepted the placque. The veteran star didn't play in yesterday's game. His next appearance will be his 3,000th game.

Real Fireworks Start Tonight; We Expect A Triumph For Giants

CONNOLLY

The real fireworks starts in the National League tonight when the Giants challenge the Dodgers in the first of a four game series.

Anything that has happened until now you can throw out the window, or stuff in the garbage disposal. It doesn't count. The whole show starts, and finishes, with the Dodger-Giant series.

Should the Giants trample over the Dodgers, as we expect, they might gather enough momentum to sweep the other clubs off their feet for the rest of September.

S. F. can win the pennant the HARD WAY, or can easily finish fifth. That may seem a contradiction of words, but it simply means the Giants, if they lose to the Dodgers, unintentionally will eliminate the Cards, themselves and the Phils and Cincy Reds. But if the Giants can pummell the Dodgers, as they should, the whole complexion of the 1963 flag chase is "a horse of another color."

The schedule "break" favors the Dodgers the first week of September as the Giants come home next Tuesday to clash with the Cubs in three games, one of which is a double header on Labor Day. Meanwhile Pittsburgh and St. Louis meet in St. Louis, and of course, the Dodgers get the breather in Houston.

THE CARDS then get a breather series at home with the Mets for two games while Houston is at S.F. and Chicago at L. A.

What might just be the last roundup for both the Dodgers and Giants is slated in S. F. when on Sept. 6-7-8 the final series between the teams is slated. While the Giants and L. A. are battling, the Cards have to entertain Pittsburgh.

The whole works of the Giants' chances, however, corners around the results of the next four games.

If Juan Marichal, Billy O'Dell and Jack Sanford can pitch back to their last workout, the Giants have a chance. Sandy Koufax, Don Drysdale and Johnny Podres will see action for L. A. and, of course, that means the Giants will have to have their hitting pants on, or else they can't expect to come out on top.

THE COMEBACK in hitting of Orlando Cepeda and Felipe Alou after a protracted slump is enough encouragement to sparkle the hopes of Northern California fans.

Cepeda particularly is effective in the clinches when he is hitting. Of late he has just begun to catch up with his plate manners. And Alou, after a long pout when his brother Matty was shipped down, is coming off his pout and hitting like he is capable of hitting.

Jose Pagan, whose fielding was the spark plug for the Giants in their 1962 mad dash to the pennant, shows signs of regaining his form. All that has to happen now is for the team as a unit to click.

Dodgers Refuse Comment On Second Guessing Of Alston

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Los Angeles Dodger General Manager E. J. (Buzzie) Bavasi isn't talking about reports he laid down the law to Dodger coaches about second-guessing Manager Walter Alston in a closed-door meeting.

Queried on a story of the meeting yesterday by Bob Hunter of the Herald-Examiner, Bavasi said, "It's not important enough to dignify with an answer."

Skipper Alston, said to have been present at the confab, was even more terse.

"I didn't even see it (the story)," he said. "And I don't want to."

The newspaper report said Bavasi had spread the word to coaches and players to avoid public question of Alston's moves.

The article described club morale as high, despite a late season slump extended to five of the last six games by last night's 9-5 loss to Cincinnati. The club still is 5½ games ahead of second-place San Francisco.

When the Dodgers' 1962 lead of four games petered out in the final week of the season and was wiped out by the Giants in a playoff, Alston was given a vote of confidence by the front office despite reports of grumblings among the players and some coaches.

At the start of this season, Bavasi made a personal appearance in Chicago to give the club what was described as a pep talk to help ease tension remaining from the 1962 decline.

NATIONAL LEAGUE RACE

Don't Look Now But Phils Sneaking Up; Dodgers Lose

U. P. INTERNATIONAL

Remember the Whiz Kids?

They're gone now although their successors could cause the Dodgers the same grief they suffered in 1950.

That was the year the fighting Philadelphia Phillies finally untracked themselves right at the wire to overcome the Dodgers and win the National League pennant by two games.

It could happen again and the hepped-up Phils, who have finished in the second division the last seven years, actually believe they can win.

"My ball players won't fall over in a dead shock if they come on to win," says Manager Gene Mauch. "They honestly feel the equal of any club in this league."

The Phillies certainly are entitled to feel that way with 12 victories in their last 15 games, a record that has moved them within a half game of third place and within seven games of the faltering first place Dodgers.

The Phils unloosed a hailstorm of home runs in beating the Cubs, 8-7, yesterday with Ryne Duren tossing in an eye-popping relief job for good measure.

Wes Covington's first inning homer off loser Paul Toth actually put Philadelphia in front for keeps and Clay Dalrymple and Johnny Callison also reached the seats later in the contest.

The Cubs narrowed the gap when they chased winner Dallas Green with a three - run burst in the eighth and that's when Duren came on to do his stuff.

He got Andre Rodgers to hit an infield grounder which forced Lou Brock at the plate, then struck out Nelson Mathews to end that threat and went on to pitch hitless ball in the ninth.

Sudden thought: Wouldn't that be a sight to see Duren pitch in the World Series against his old Yankee club and his old buddy, Ralph Houk?

The Dodgers' lead was cut to 5½ games when they were beaten by the Reds, 9-5, while the second place Giants downed the third place Cardinals, 5-3. The Braves tripped the Colts, 9-1, and the Pirates defeated the Mets, 7-2.

Jim Maloney won his 19th for the Reds although he pulled a muscle in the eighth and Joey Jay finished up. Two errors by Maury Wills and one by Tommy Davis helped the Reds to three of their runs. Possibly the only Dodger bright spot was Bill Skowron's pinch two-run homer in the ninth. Don Pavletich homered off loser Johnny Podres in the fourth.

STICKLES OUT; MORE 49ERS ARE LIMPING

REDWOOD CITY (AP) — Injured tight end Monty Stickles was declared out of tomorrow's game with Dallas by San Francisco 49ers Coach Red Hickey.

Hickey moved Bernie Casey from the flank yesterday to fill Stickles' spot. Defensive halfback Eddie Dove, halfback Kermit Alexander, linebacker Carl Kammerer and linemen John Thomas and Len Rohde were classed real doubtful participants by Hickey for the National Football League exhibition at Bakersfield.

Meanwhile Pittsburgh and St. Louis meet in St. Louis, and of course, the Dodgers get the breather in Houston.

THE CARDS then get a breather series at home with the Mets for two games while Houston is at S.F. and Chicago at L. A.

What might just be the last roundup for both the Dodgers and Giants is slated in S. F. when on Sept. 6-7-8 the final series between the teams is slated. While the Giants and L. A. are battling, the Cards have to entertain Pittsburgh.

The whole works of the Giants' chances, however, corners around the results of the next four games.

If Juan Marichal, Billy O'Dell and Jack Sanford can pitch back to their last workout, the Giants have a chance. Sandy Koufax, Don Drysdale and Johnny Podres will see action for L. A. and, of course, that means the Giants will have to have their hitting pants on, or else they can't expect to come out on top.

THE COMEBACK in hitting of Orlando Cepeda and Felipe Alou after a protracted slump is enough encouragement to sparkle the hopes of Northern California fans.

Cepeda particularly is effective in the clinches when he is hitting. Of late he has just begun to catch up with his plate manners. And Alou, after a long pout when his brother Matty was shipped down, is coming off his pout and hitting like he is capable of hitting.

Jose Pagan, whose fielding was the spark plug for the Giants in their 1962 mad dash to the pennant, shows signs of regaining his form. All that has to happen now is for the team as a unit to click.

Dodgers Refuse Comment On Second Guessing Of Alston

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Los Angeles Dodger General Manager E. J. (Buzzie) Bavasi isn't talking about reports he laid down the law to Dodger coaches about second-guessing Manager Walter Alston in a closed-door meeting.

Queried on a story of the meeting yesterday by Bob Hunter of the Herald-Examiner, Bavasi said, "It's not important enough to dignify with an answer."

Skipper Alston, said to have been present at the confab, was even more terse.

"I didn't even see it (the story)," he said. "And I don't want to."

The newspaper report said Bavasi had spread the word to coaches and players to avoid public question of Alston's moves.

The article described club morale as high, despite a late season slump extended to five of the last six games by last night's 9-5 loss to Cincinnati. The club still is 5½ games ahead of second-place San Francisco.

When the Dodgers' 1962 lead of four games petered out in the final week of the season and was wiped out by the Giants in a playoff, Alston was given a vote of confidence by the front office despite reports of grumblings among the players and some coaches.

At the start of this season, Bavasi made a personal appearance in Chicago to give the club what was described as a pep talk to help ease tension remaining from the 1962 decline.

NATIONAL LEAGUE RACE

Don't Look Now But Phils Sneaking Up; Dodgers Lose

U. P. INTERNATIONAL

Remember the Whiz Kids?

They're gone now although their successors could cause the Dodgers the same grief they suffered in 1950.

That was the year the fighting Philadelphia Phillies finally untracked themselves right at the wire to overcome the Dodgers and win the National League pennant by two games.

It could happen again and the hepped-up Phils, who have finished in the second division the last seven years, actually believe they can win.

"My ball players won't fall over in a dead shock if they come on to win," says Manager Gene Mauch. "They honestly feel the equal of any club in this league."

The Phillies certainly are entitled to feel that way with 12 victories in their last 15 games, a record that has moved them within a half game of third place and within seven games of the faltering first place Dodgers.

The Phils unloosed a hailstorm of home runs in beating the Cubs, 8-7, yesterday with Ryne Duren tossing in an eye-popping relief job for good measure.

Wes Covington's first inning homer off loser Paul Toth actually put Philadelphia in front for keeps and Clay Dalrymple and Johnny Callison also reached the seats later in the contest.

The Cubs narrowed the gap when they chased winner Dallas Green with a three - run burst in the eighth and that's when Duren came on to do his stuff.

He got Andre Rodgers to hit an infield grounder which forced Lou Brock at the plate, then struck out Nelson Mathews to end that threat and went on to pitch hitless ball in the ninth.

Sudden thought: Wouldn't that be a sight to see Duren pitch in the World Series against his old Yankee club and his old buddy, Ralph Houk?

The Dodgers' lead was cut to 5½ games when they were beaten by the Reds, 9-5, while the second place Giants downed the third place Cardinals, 5-3. The Braves tripped the Colts, 9-1, and the Pirates defeated the Mets, 7-2.

Jim Maloney won his 19th for the Reds although he pulled a muscle in the eighth and Joey Jay finished up. Two errors by Maury Wills and one by Tommy Davis helped the Reds to three of their runs. Possibly the only Dodger bright spot was Bill Skowron's pinch two-run homer in the ninth. Don Pavletich homered off loser Johnny Podres in the fourth.

STICKLES OUT; MORE 49ERS ARE LIMPING

REDWOOD CITY (AP) — Injured tight end Monty Stickles was declared out of tomorrow's game with Dallas by San Francisco 49ers Coach Red Hickey.

Hickey moved Bernie Casey from the flank yesterday to fill Stickles' spot. Defensive halfback Eddie Dove, halfback Kermit Alexander, linebacker Carl Kammerer and linemen John Thomas and Len Rohde were classed real doubtful participants by Hickey for the National Football League exhibition at Bakersfield.

Free Boating Instructions To Be Given By Marin Power Squadron

FREE instruction in Piloting, Seamanship, and Small Boat Handling will be given by the Marin Power Squadron during the fall quarter at the College of Marin. The course includes lectures on: Safety, Small Boat Handling, Seamanship, Equipment and Government Regulations, Rules of the Road, Aid to Navigation and the meaning of the buoys and lights, Mariner's Compass, Charts and Piloting and Customs and Manners.

You may register for this free course on Thursday, Sept. 5, at the campus Art Building at 7:30 p.m. It is a two hour class every Thursday night. A Certificate of Completion is issued to both men and women who successfully complete the course.

BOATING rendezvous are gaining popularity. At first, only the ski clubs were interested. Now though, even the more passive, box lunch-explorers are doing it too. But what if someone in the party wants to ski? So, al-l-l-right, ski. Just keep away from the fish lines.

Boating members of the Marin Rod and Gun Club are planning to give the idea a whirl Sept. 15. Meeting place will be the Ko-Ket Resort on the Sacramento River at 9 a.m. Boats will then be launched and the party will set out to explore any area decided on in that area of the Delta.

Directions: Continue through the town of Isleton on the levee road. This is toward Walnut Grove, but before you get there you'll spot the Ko-Ket Resort sign. Just pull down into the picnic area.

THIS IS a shake-down cruise and consequently rather loosely organized. As everyone knows, these affairs are sometimes the most successful. It's hoped that this will establish a precedent for a full summer of get-togethers next year. Not only for these club members and other organizations, but for the hundreds of Marin boating families who are acquainted with other boaters. They can just pick up the phone and say, "Hi, what's doing next weekend? Let's get the gang together for a little cruise—"

It's fun to share a mutual interest. Also, it makes for a safer trip.

Even night cruises are great fun according to some members of the San Rafael Yacht Club. Leaving the Birdcage at 7:15 on Friday evening three boats set a course for Stockton, arriving at the Bridge Marina at 1:40 a.m. Up in the morning and off to Stockton, along with other boats from Marin.

A Larbor Day cruise to Potato Slough is all set. Boats will leave from the Birdcage at 8 a.m. Saturday.

EVINRUDE, manufacturers of outboard engines for 55 years, announces it will launch its own boats this fall. Four 16-foot runabouts, two outboard powered and two propelled by stern drive engines, will be produced. All four have an unusual "gull wing" hull design.

This company has spent eight years in the development of boat designs. Intensive research and testing of the "gull wing" hull over the last four years has resulted in a boat bottom that produces a degree of comfort in riding quality that is completely unique in the boating field, according to Robert H. Scott, director of sales for Evinrude. The design also achieves maximum stability and safety of operation.

Better Prospects At Cal, Stanford

Stanford and California, a pair of Big Six schools with slightly brightening football prospects, begin fall workouts Sunday.

Both teams will suit up for photographers Saturday, then open twice-daily drills the next day.

Stanford, under new head coach John Ralston, is banking its hopes on a mammmoth line and versatility in the backfield.

California's chances for victory apparently hinge on the arm of junior quarterback Craig Morton, who missed half the 1962 season with a knee injury but starred the rest of the campaign.

Ralston succeeds Jack Curtice and inherits 23 returnees from last year's team, which was 5-5.

Ralston has switched guard Marv Harris, a second team all-coast selection, to center where he'll anchor a line averaging nearly 240 pounds from tackle to tackle.

Three 1962 quarterbacks will operate simultaneously in the Indians' backfield. Ralston has left Clark Weaver in the quarterback position but shifted Steve Thurlow and Dick Ragsdale to halfbacks.

62 INDIANS

Ralston expects 62 candidates to report, including four who lettered in 1961 but not last year.

California's Marv Levy, whose teams have won only four games in three years, expects a turnout of 60, including 22 lettermen. Only four of the lettermen are seniors.

His Bears, behind a line that will average about 220 pounds, are shifting to a flankerback offense to take advantage of Morton's passing.

Bill Turner, last year's top receiver, is gone but halfback Jerry Mosher and end Bill Krum are expected to take up this slack.

Stanford is pegged by most observers for a third-place finish in the Big Six with a 6-4 record perhaps the best that can be expected.

The Bears are tagged for fifth in the conference. Victories over anyone except Iowa State and San Jose State will probably fall in the upset category, though Cal's caliber of play should be improved.

Washington Nine Wins Connie Mack Crown

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., (AP) — Kirkland, Wash., won the Connie Mack World Series Baseball championship last night with a 6-5 victory over Chicago.

Each team had suffered one defeat during the double-elimination tournament for boys under 19.

Tiburon, M.V. To Vie For Semi-Pro 'Title'

Mill Valley Merchants and Tiburon Pelicans will clash Sunday at Mill Valley for the "Southern Marin semi - pro baseball championship."

The game will start at 1:30 p. m. at Project 17 Park and will mark the Pelicans' first game away from their home field this year.

If a close game prevails, a second meeting between the Southern Marin rivals would be scheduled at Tiburon the following week.

Tiburon played an independent schedule this season while Mill Valley competed in the Marin Semi-Pro League.

College Of Marin Gridders Report

College of Marin's Tar football team started taking physical examinations and receiving uniforms today in preparation for the 1963 season.

The gridders will be issued new college uniforms and helmets today and tomorrow and will start practice next Tuesday on the college football field in Kentfield. A team meeting has been called for tomorrow at 1 p. m. by head coach Dick Read.

Drills for the footballers will be split into morning and afternoon sessions for the first week until school starts Sept. 10.

On Saturday, Sept. 14, the Tars will take on Chabot College in a game scrimmage starting at 10 a. m. in the college stadium. First practice game will be the following Friday (Sept. 20) when the Tars battle Menlo College in Kentfield at 8 p. m.

Read expected about 60 gridders out for the team.

Perry's Win, 21-4

Perry's Delicatessen clobbered the Independent 21-4 in Class B and the Terra Linda Merchants won by forfeit over Fairchild in Class A of the San Rafael Recreation Department adult Softball League yesterday.

822 Series Features Country Club Action

George Mazzera topped the week's action at Country Club Bowl with an 822 four-game series headed by a sparkling 242 game during the 540 Scratch Trio League.

In the same league Charles Bogni rolled the high game for the week, a 246. Ed Henry, bowling in the Mixed Fours, put together games of 192, 205 and 225 for a fine three-game set of 622.

Dot O'Bayley of the Wednesday Morning Singles took the honors for the women with a 231 game. Kay Horne of the Friday Night Mixed Fours rolled the top three-game set, 512, and Charlotte Warcup of the Almost Trios had high four-game series, 709.

In open bowling during the week, Jay Sharp rolled 11 straight strikes and ended the line with a seven-count for a 297 game.

Country Club Bowl officials announced that the lanes will be closed for resurfacing next Tuesday. It will reopen at 6 p.m. Wednesday.

Thet week's results:

Better Prospects At Cal, Stanford

Stanford and California, a pair of Big Six schools with slightly brightening football prospects, begin fall workouts Sunday.

Both teams will suit up for photographers Saturday, then open twice-daily drills the next day.

Stanford, under new head coach John Ralston, is banking its hopes on a mammmoth line and versatility in the backfield.

California's chances for victory apparently hinge on the arm of junior quarterback Craig Morton, who missed half the 1962 season with a knee injury but starred the rest of the campaign.

Ralston succeeds Jack Curtice and inherits 23 returnees from last year's team, which was 5-5.

Ralston has switched guard Marv Harris, a second team all-coast selection, to center where he'll anchor a line averaging nearly 240 pounds from tackle to tackle.

Three 1962 quarterbacks will operate simultaneously in the Indians' backfield. Ralston has left Clark Weaver in the quarterback position but shifted Steve Thurlow and Dick Ragsdale to halfbacks.

62 INDIANS

Ralston expects 62 candidates to report, including four who lettered in 1961 but not last year.

California's Marv Levy, whose teams have won only four games in three years, expects a turnout of 60, including 22 lettermen. Only four of the lettermen are seniors.

His Bears, behind a line that will average about 220 pounds, are shifting to a flankerback offense to take advantage of Morton's passing.

Bill Turner, last year's top receiver, is gone but halfback Jerry Mosher and end Bill Krum are expected to take up this slack.

Stanford is pegged by most observers for a third-place finish in the Big Six with a 6-4 record perhaps the best that can be expected.

The Bears are tagged for fifth in the conference. Victories over anyone except Iowa State and San Jose State will probably fall in the upset category, though Cal's caliber of play should be improved.

Washington Nine Wins Connie Mack Crown

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., (AP) — Kirkland, Wash., won the Connie Mack World Series Baseball championship last night with a 6-5 victory over Chicago.

Each team had suffered one defeat during the double-elimination tournament for boys under 19.

Tiburon, M.V. To Vie For Semi-Pro 'Title'

Mill Valley Merchants and Tiburon Pelicans will clash Sunday at Mill Valley for the "Southern Marin semi - pro baseball championship."

The game will start at 1:30 p. m. at Project 17 Park and will mark the Pelicans' first game away from their home field this year.

If a close game prevails, a second meeting between the Southern Marin rivals would be scheduled at Tiburon the following week.

Tiburon played an independent schedule this season while Mill Valley competed in the Marin Semi-Pro League.

College Of Marin Gridders Report

College of Marin's Tar football team started taking physical examinations and receiving uniforms today in preparation for the 1963 season.

The gridders will be issued new college uniforms and helmets today and tomorrow and will start practice next Tuesday on the college football field in Kentfield. A team meeting has been called for tomorrow at 1 p. m. by head coach Dick Read.

Drills for the footballers will be split into morning and afternoon sessions for the first week until school starts Sept. 10.

On Saturday, Sept. 14, the Tars will take on Chabot College in a game scrimmage starting at 10 a. m. in the college stadium. First practice game will be the following Friday (Sept. 20) when the Tars battle Menlo College in Kentfield at 8 p. m.

Read expected about 60 gridders out for the team.

Get Those Shot Guns Cleaned, Dove Season To Start Sunday

Great activity prevails among the local outdoorsmen, their wives, and canine connivers. Housewives are rearranging the refrigerators now stacked with sea food to make way for the expected influx of upland game; the menfolk are cleaning, oiling and sighting the trusty fowling pieces, causing great excitement among the setters, retrievers, pointers and plain bird-loving mutts.

All this frenzied fervor is in preparation for a Hunter's Holiday on Sunday, the day when it will be legal to subtract limits or near limits from flocks of doves, sage, Sierra and ruffled grouse, as well as various bunnies such as cottontails, brush and pygmy rabbits.

The season on doves (which have become the most sought after of all upland game) will continue through the month of September. The bag limit will be 10 per day, and the possession limit, 20.

Only two days hunting is allowed for sage, Sierra and ruffled grouse (Sept. 1 and 2) and two birds in the bag, but you can battle the bunnies from Sept. 1 through Jan. 1, 1964, with a daily bag of five, and a possession limit of five in the aggregate of all species.

As you probably know, the weather determines the number of doves in any given area, and, as a result, the rate of kill. A sudden cold spell will cause the birds to shift locale to get where it is warmer. So the wise guy will check the temperature of the spot he favors to hunt for doves.

As it stands now, prospects are excellent in the upper Sacramento Valley, Shasta Valley, and eastern Lassen County, and fair to good in the main Sacramento Valley and nearby foothills. Probably the best hunting will be on private lands, so beware trespass signs.

In the Central Coast Area, predictions are for very good dove hunting in San Luis Obispo, San Benito and Monterey counties, but only fair in Sonoma and Mendocino counties. From Santa Clara County north through Contra Costa, Alameda and Napa counties, the doves are scattered. But a period of warm weather could easily bring a concentration and, as a result, good returns.

The F&G field observers reported doves relatively abundant in the San Joaquin Valley and adjacent foothills.

So, get set, brothers. The birds are there and you can get in some practice for the opening of duck season on Oct. 23.

Not much to comment upon anent bass and salmon fishing. There has been a slight drop in production for both. It is quite possible, however, that new schools of salmon will be located and a return of the fast fishing result. As for the stripers, keep in touch with action from Point San Pablo and the Sisters upstream to the Carquinez Bridge. The annual runs of bass on their way to the spawning grounds may happen almost any day now.

Gallinas Sanitary Unit Meeting On Director

Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District directors will meet Sept. 5 to interview applicants to replace R. N. Sundquist, who resigned from the board three weeks ago.

Board President Floyd Hoveland said applications will be received by the district until next Tuesday. About six prospective directors have already submitted applications.

The board will begin interviewing candidates at 7:30 p.m. in the district office at 300 Smith Ranch Road. Appointment of the new director is expected at the district board's regular meeting on Sept. 12.

Persons seeking appointment must be registered voters in the district, which includes Terra Linda, Santa Venetia, Lucas Valley and Marinwood.

Sundquist's replacement will serve for two years, the remainder of his term, at the end of which the office will be open to election.

Non-Smokers Pay Less

Bank Of Marin Is Seeking To Open Branch In Novato

The Bank of Marin is seeking to open a third office, this time in Novato.

The state banking department in Sacramento announced yesterday it had received an application to open the bank in the western business section of the city.

Bank President William Murray Jr. said plans for the branch are nebulous now, with not even a site picked out. He said the state will probably take three to four months to approve the application.

"We feel Novato is a tremendously growing area and needs an independent bank," he said, adding there are no home-owned banks there now.

Mrs. Livermore Enjoys A Busy Day At Center

AND OF course there was the cake with 80 candles, borne to the table by her butler, Walter Schyle, as the 500 guests began to sing.

A SERENADE by Hugo Rinaldi especially delighted her, as he won the first scholarship awarded by Marin Music Chest, which she headed for many years.

Marin Women

EIGHTY red roses were presented on behalf of the Center by Mrs. Frank Stratford to the Art and Garden Center founder and president, who was escorted to the stage for the ceremony by her son George. Plans for a bird-bath and a dedication plaque to be placed on it were presented also.

BEFORE lunch the 573rd Air Force band from Hamilton played sprightly numbers for her, including some from her native state of Texas

A Happy Birthday Tribute

Marin leaders turned out in strength yesterday to honor one of the county's most beloved and tireless volunteers in its behalf on the occasion of her 80th birthday.

More than 500 friends of Mrs. Norman B. Livermore gathered at the Marin Art and Garden Center, which she founded, to share her celebration and to see the unveiling of plans for a bird monument dedicated to her at the Center.

In reply to the presentation by Eugene A. Ostaggi, Mrs. Livermore paid tribute to the people who have worked with her to develop the Center over the years, most of whom were present for the lunch under the trees.

"I can't express in words my appreciation for this tribute," she said. Recalling the idea for the Marin Art and Garden Center, Mrs. Livermore explained, "When I heard Mrs. Kittle was going to sell this beautiful property my conservation soul was stirred," and she moved to obtain the Ross grounds and preserve their natural beauty for the people of Marin to enjoy.

When the birthday cake bearing 80 candles arrived, Mrs. Livermore, who was born Caroline Sealy in Galveston, Tex. on Aug. 7, 1883, was serenaded by 500 eager voices. She was also presented a bouquet of 80 red roses by Mrs. Frank Stratford from the Center, which has been her number one project through the years.

AFTER THE MUSIC, flowers and birthday candles, Mrs. Livermore turned to enjoy the show by models from affiliate groups and members of the Marin Art and Garden Center which she founded to ward off subdividers and retain the natural beauty of the grounds. At center is Mrs. Clifford Flack who was seated at the table of Center founders. Modeling is Mrs. Shirley Ness for the Junior Theatre of of Marin unit.

Crittenton Circle To Hold Planning Session Sept. 5

Members of Marin Circle, San Francisco Florence Crittenton Home, will be assigned final duties and informed of the elaborate plans for the Concours D'Elegance, main fund-raising event of the year, when they meet at 10 a.m. Sept. 5 at the San Rafael home of Mrs. Roger Jobson, Concours assistant chairman.

Mrs. Edward B. Hayden, chairman, has announced that tickets and entry forms for the Sept. 29 Concours to be held at Peacock Gap Country Club are available at the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Elbert has announced the appointment of Mrs. Donald Weirick of San Rafael as secretary of the Circle.

Rosanne Jones Wed In San Francisco

St. Stephen's Church in San Francisco was the setting for the marriage on Saturday of Rosanne Jones of San Rafael and Claude Hudson.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. James J. Jones, and the parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hudson of La Grange Park, Ill.

The double ring ceremony was performed at 2 p.m. by the Rev. Donworth.

Wearing a floor length gown of white chantilly lace, the bride was given in marriage by her brother, James L. Jones Jr. of San Francisco. Her attendants were gowned in full length dresses of champagne colored brocade.

Matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. Edward L. Shelton of Greenbrae, and bridesmaids were Cathy Bonsor of San Francisco and Kathy McNiel of La Mesa. Vicky Shelton of Greenbrae was the flower girl, and Kenneth Jones of San Francisco was the ringbearer.

Paul Altorfer of San Francisco served the bridegroom as best man, and ushers were Edward L. Shelton of Greenbrae, Robert Scheppler of San Rafael and Richard Johnson of San Francisco.

A reception was held at the Olympic Club in San Francisco following the wedding. After a honeymoon in Las Vegas, La Jolla and Palm Springs the couple will reside in Rheem near Orinda.

The new Mrs. Hudson was graduated from Lincoln High School in San Francisco and attended the University of Arizona in Tucson. She is employed at the United California Bank in San Francisco.

THE BETTER HALF By Bob Barnes

"Well, what have we here — garbage a-la-mode?"

AS MRS. Livermore's cake was brought each of the 500 guests lighted the candle on his individual cake to enjoy the moment with her. Here Eugene A. Ostaggi, who was master of ceremonies at the gift presentation, lights candle for Mrs. Frank Stratford, who headed the table of Center Founders.

San Anselmo Girl Honored At Dinner

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Helen Loretta Condon and her fiance, Carl Wesley Sitchler of Fairfax were honored recently at a dinner given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Condon of San Anselmo. The couple will be married Sunday at St. Anselm's Church, Ross. Helen was honored at two showers this week. One was given by her cousin, Mrs. Cecil Forbes of San Francisco. The other took place at the San Rafael home of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Grady. Hostesses were the Grady's daughter, Marguerite Grady, La Lonnie Carmichael of San Francisco and Helen's sister, Mrs. John Villa Jr. of San Rafael.

EUGENE LACKENBACH of San Rafael has received the exciting news that his daughter-in-law, known professionally as Maria Grey, will sing several leading roles in the Metropolitan Opera this coming season. Maria is now in Europe with her husband, Robert Lackenbach, a famous photographer and writer, who is on the staff of Life and several other national magazines. He and his wife have homes in Milan and Berlin. Maria has sung in operas in Zurich and other large European cities. She has a beautiful lyric soprano voice. Eugene intends to go to New York for the opening of the Metropolitan Opera season in October and hear Maria in "Die Meistersinger," "Don Giovanni" and in the role of Mimi in "La Boheme."

MR. AND MRS. ROGER GARETY of Greenbrae have returned to their home after vacationing at Lake Tahoe. They have a house at Carnelian Bay. With the Garetys were their three children, Denise, 15; Roger, 13, and Vicki, 5, and two houseguests, Denise's classmate at Marin Catholic High School, Maureen Lindel; of San Anselmo, and Roger's classmate at St. Raphael's School, San Rafael, Phillip Schwab of Greenbrae.

Among those at "An Evening of British Rubbish" tonight at the Little Fox Theater on Pacific Avenue, San Francisco, will be Dr. and Mrs. Howard Maibach of Kentfield; Mr. and Mrs. William V. Patten of Ross and Mr. and Mrs. James Halligan of San Rafael. Before they go to the theater they will be guests of Dr. Francis Sullivan at a cocktail party in the lounge of Off Broadway.

A valuable addition to the literary colony in Marin is Robert (Bob) Patterson, who recently returned from Europe and North Africa, where he gathered material for a number of magazine articles. He has written two novels, "Man with a Past," and "Gold Is the Color of Blood." His third book, "Set a Thief," will soon be published.

Judge and Mrs. Carlos Freitas of San Rafael have returned home after a two months cruise on a Norwegian-American liner, the Bergenfjord. The liner stopped at ports in Sweden, Finland, Russia, Holland, Belgium, Ireland, Scotland, the North Cape, Norway and Denmark. In several ports Judge and Mrs. Freitas left the ship to make across country trips. Three years ago Judge and Mrs. Freitas traveled through the southern countries of Europe.

Cristobal Balenciaga Decrees Unfitted Jacket, Skirt Pleats

By ALINE MOSBY

PARIS (UPI) — Cristobal Balenciaga, regarded as king of Paris fashion, has handed down his decree for winter—suit jackets still unfitted and short skirts bursting out in pleats.

The Spanish designer showed his collection to the press Tuesday, a month after most other designers. Fashion writers noted every stitch because as Balenciaga goes, Paris usually follows.

Generally he clung to his slim, loose-waisted and back-swept look that has won him the world's richest, best-dressed and most famous women as clientele.

BUT SMALL CHANGES were noted that might be hints of trends to come. Some, but not all, coat shoulders were slightly wider and rounded but not footballish, as at Dior. Skirts had a straight line but often kick pleats on one side or in the back.

Women who don't like much change were relieved to see he still presented narrow redingote coats with small collars and unfitted suit jackets ending at the top of the hip, with either natural or slightly wider shoulders.

Knee-high leather boots that Balenciaga launched a year ago were worn by models in plaid wool suits with long unfitted jackets. One red plaid suit had red plaid stockings to match. Other daytime suits had shorter jackets, dipping slightly in back, and small collars or none at all. Blouses were usually wool jersey and worn outside the skirt. Two suits had sleeveless blouses like silk scarves tied together. The models wore either plain pumps or business-like oxford shoes with medium heels.

TO OBSERVE Paris' rainy summer, Balenciaga paraded elegant raincoats in olive green, caramel brown or beige. Many had military-like brass buttons and one was lined with skunk.

A new idea was a suit of beige raincoat fabric, the loose jacket lined with green mohair wool.

Balenciaga coats were either wide with slightly padded shoulders or narrow redingotes. Many black coats had Spanish-style capes, some so short they ended just a few inches below the shoulder. Half-belts often were placed extra low in back with two pleats below giving a slight flared effect.

The designer used green, tomato red, beige and brown, and many coats were mustard yellow, olive green or white.

ALMOST ALL his cocktail dresses were black. Some had cape - like sleeves ending above the elbow and slit to reveal the arm. All were discreetly high in front and medium low in back.

The fashion writers applauded a series of slim sack dresses made of glittering beaded net over satin slips.

Balenciaga remembered Spain in his evening gowns. Many floor - length creations clung to the figure until they blossomed into wide ruffles below the knees. One short black taffeta dress had a skirt of two huge ruffles edged with eyelet and sparkling jet beads. Over this the model wore a short cape that also was edged with a gigantic eyelet ruffle.

IT TOOK SOME figuring, but fashion writers finally decided that tight black slacks, tucked into ankle-length fur boots, and loose brightly-colored velvet or plaid blouses were for after-ski wear at resorts. This salon is so exclusive it never issues a program to identify what's what.

Floor - length wool evening coats are all over Paris this season, and Balenciaga's contribution was of beige mohair, with lapels and two rows of buttons. Underneath the model wore a navy blue tailored floor-length jersey shirtmaker dress with a narrow belt.

PARIS DESIGNER Pierre Balmain has dubbed his creation "Oslo"—a white satin dress with top embroidered with ribbons and rhinestones. Balmain says its for fall and winter wear. (AP Wirephoto)

Belvedere Couple Host For Seniors

Mr. and Mrs. Lou H. Hymans were hosts this afternoon at their home in Belvedere to 175 senior citizens of the Richmond Montefiore Center in San Francisco. It was their eighth annual party.

The annual affair is given by the chairman, Mrs. Hymans, in memory of her father, Alfred Arendt, and this year will also honor the memory of her mother, Amy Arendt. Both were members of the Montefiore Center.

The group planted a rose bush in the Hymans' garden in memory of her mother.

AUTO SALE RULES DUE DISCUSSION

State Meeting Set To Review Changes Before Final Adoption

SACRAMENTO — A public meeting to consider new regulations applying to the occasional sales of automobiles has been scheduled by John W. Lynch, chairman of the State Board of Equalization, for Sept. 18 here. The new motor vehicle use tax rules are effective Oct. 1.

Legislation passed at the 1963 session requires the purchaser of a motor vehicle from anyone other than a licensed California automobile dealer or dismantler to pay a 4 per cent use tax as part of the automobile registration procedure.

The purchase will, however, be tax exempt if the seller has not sold any other motor vehicle during the preceding 12 months.

Regular automobile dealers will continue to pay the sales tax on all of their car sales but will be relieved of responsibility for sales tax on personal cars sold by their salesmen when their only participation in the sales is by acting as guarantor on conditional sales agreements or by permitting salesmen to use their showrooms or other facilities.

The new automobile tax plan will be carried out jointly by the board of equalization and the State Department of Motor Vehicles. The latter agency will collect the use tax on purchases made from non-licensed persons when the buyers apply for registration of their motor vehicles.

Lynch noted that this change in law will permit the purchaser of a motor vehicle to pay the use tax at the same time and place that the vehicle is registered.

Other rule changes to be heard at the meeting concern the extension of the sales tax to food and meals sold by drive-ins for off-premises consumption, and to meals sold by employers and employee organizations to employees; the exemption of insulin from sales tax; and the exemption of bunker fuel purchased from "tramp" steamers.

French Lessons Contract Voted

The Lagunitas School District board Tuesday voted to renew an agreement with Robert de la Vergne to let him use a school classroom for private French lessons on a program sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Assn.

The board also received notice that construction of a road to the new school building by Lagunitas Development Co. met county standards.

Two new teachers were hired. They are Mrs. Virginia L. Furey, first grade, and Mrs. Helen N. Rideout, fourth grade.

Schedule was established for teachers institute meetings Sept. 4 through 6, including meetings at the county library in the Civic Center and attendance in Mill Valley at a speech on the new mathematics program.

Austins Will Show Pictures Of Trip

Ward and Miriam Austin of Larkspur will show pictures of their trip to Australia and New Zealand at a monthly meeting of the Marin Audubon Society Sept. 6 at the College of Marin.

The meeting, open to the public, will be in Room 40 of the Chemistry Building.

Charlie's Market In San Rafael Is Sold

Charlie's Market, a food store at 1701 Fourth Street, San Rafael, first opened about 35 years ago, is changing hands, it was announced today.

Charles F. Zapelli, its founder, and Albert J. Chiaroni, his partner for the past 15 years, are retiring from the business. It has been sold to Chiaroni's son Clifford and Fred V. Angeli of 201 Butterfield Road, San Anselmo. The transaction is expected to be completed next week upon transfer of the offsale liquor license.

Clifford Chiaroni has also been with the store about 15 years. Recently he has acted as its manager. Angeli was formerly a partner in Pastori Market, Fairfax, until it closed about three years ago. Since then he has been a food salesman.

Zapelli first started in business in San Rafael in 1927 with a fruit store on Fourth Street. Shortly afterward he moved across the street and opened a vegetable stand and two or three years later established the present market.

Chiaroni said there will be no other changes in the business. He and Angeli will keep the present staff of employees.

Debbie Reynolds Signs Contract For Records

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Debbie Reynolds has signed a recording contract with Reprise Records, Frank Sinatra's company.

Miss Reynolds will record with Sinatra and Dean Martin who also sings under the Reprise label.

Motor Bike, Car Collide

Joseph Bihr, 43, of 742 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, suffered a dislocated elbow, cuts of the left arm and chest bruises at 1:30 p.m. yesterday when his motor bike collided with a car at Red Hill and Ancho Vista Avenues, San Anselmo.

He was reported in good condition today at Marin General Hospital.

San Anselmo police said Bihr's motor bike traveling on Red Hill Avenue collided with a car driven by Laura McKnight Thayer, 74, of 86 Culloden Park Road, San Anselmo, going south on Ancho Vista Avenue.

Hose Stolen

Mrs. Remo Rossi, 50 Mesa Avenue, Mill Valley, reported to Mill Valley police yesterday that she returned home from work yesterday evening to discover 50 feet of plastic hose had been stolen from her yard.

Injured Man Is Seeking Dead Dog For Burial

A San Francisco man wants to bury "Contessa," his cocker spaniel in a pet cemetery, but he can't find the body.

"Contessa" was killed in an auto accident on Highway 101, about 200 yards south of Spencer Avenue on the Waldo Grade Friday.

A California Highway Patrol officer placed the dog's body on the east side of the guard rail.

Elton Cecchettini, owner of the dog, said when he searched the area yesterday the dog's body was gone. He could not look sooner because he was hospitalized after the crash.

He described "Contessa" as a nine-year-old blonde female wearing a choke collar.

Anyone with information about the whereabouts of "Contessa" is requested to notify Cecchettini at 3233 Octavia Street, San Francisco.

School's Fire Alarm Stolen

Someone stripped Sleepy Hollow School of its fire system, school custodian Tony Silva reported to the sheriff Tuesday.

Deputy Sheriff Dennis Shine said three horn type alarms and one bell alarm had been removed from the outside walls of the school. Two of the dismantled alarms were found discarded on school property, but the others are still missing.

A section of tar paper roofing is also torn away from the roof of the school.

Kentfield School Bus Schedule Set

Bus schedules for seventh and eighth grade pupils in the Kentfield School District were announced today by Supt. Howard C. Harmon.

Kindergarten through sixth grade students, within walking distance of their schools, will again not ride buses this year, Harmon said.

MORNING SCHEDULE:

Trip 1. 7:45 a.m. Greenbrae School; Trip 2. 8:05 a.m. Greenbrae Company Realty Office, LaCuesta and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard; Trip 3. 8:20 a.m. Bon Air Road at Sir Francis Drake; 8:22 a.m. Manor Road at Drake.

AFTERNOON SCHEDULE:

Trip 1. 3:25 p.m. leave A. E. Kent School for Greenbrae School; 3:35 p.m. arrive at Greenbrae School; Trip 2. 3:45 p.m. leave A. E. Kent; 3:52 p.m. arrive at Greenbrae Realty Office, La Cuesta and Drake; Trip 3. 4 p.m. leave A. E. Kent; 4:08 p.m. arrive Bon Air and Drake; 4:10 p.m. arrive Manor Road and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Children should plan to be at their bus stop a few minutes early the first morning since it is difficult to gauge in advance the precise time requirements, said Harmon.

Ex-Cloak-And-Dagger Organizer Dies At 65

LONDON (AP) — Sir Charles Hambro, 65, banker and wartime cloak-and-dagger operations organizer, died yesterday after an illness of a year.

Hambro, chairman of Hambros Bank Ltd., largest of London's investment banks, was entrusted with early confidential information on the atom bomb and credited with helping disrupt Nazi nuclear experimentation.

PUC Hears Alternate Sites For Proposed Nuclear Plant

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The California Public Utilities Commission yesterday heard three possible alternate sites described for a proposed nuclear power plant which two firms seek to locate in a section of Camp Pendleton.

At the direction of the PUC, engineer Robert W. Hollis conducted a preliminary study for locating the controversial project. They are:

1. Sycamore Canyon, near the Ventura-Los Angeles County line.

2. Sequita Canyon, also near that county line north of Malibu.

3. In the vicinity of an existing San Diego Gas and Electric Co. power plant at Encina, south of Oceanside.

But Hollis said the cost would be from five to 13 million dollars greater than the proposed 80.8 - million - dollar project at Camp Pendleton, largely because of the high cost of land, and drainage requirements not necessary at the Marine installation.

The PUC resumed its hearing on the application by the San Diego Utility and Southern California Edison to locate the power plant at Camp Pendleton. When the hearing was in progress last month, opposition was voiced to the Camp Pendleton site by some sources on grounds it would utilize a large area that otherwise might be committed to recreation.

The PUC is expected to take the matter under advisement, with no decision likely for several months.

Other opposition was voiced on grounds safety factors had not been clearly stated, despite assurances by a parade of witnesses that there would be no hazards from the nuclear reactor.

Hollis said his study showed the alternate sites differed in two ways from the Pendleton location:

1. They would be at least 1,000 feet off the beach.

2. They would be protected by double containment, in that the nuclear reactor would be protected by two steel balls rather than the one which scientists believe is all that is necessary because of the isolated Pendleton location.

Specifically, Hollis estimated cost of the Sequita and Sycamore Canyon at 93.8 million dollars, and at Encina, 85.1 million dollars.

Interschool Relations Group Slates Meeting

The council of the Interschool Relations Assn. of Marin County high schools will meet Oct. 1 at San Rafael High School to plan football season activities and set the date for the IRA conference of the officers of the seven high schools in the Marin County Athletic League.

The officers of IRA will meet on Sept. 24 at the home of publicity chairman Karen Ardito at 168 Meadowcroft Drive, San Anselmo.

Horsemen To Meet

The San Geronimo Valley Horsemen's Assn. will meet Sept. 9 at 8 p.m. in the Lagunitas School multipurpose room. Slides will be shown about activities of the San Francisco Mounted Patrol.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

By HARRY CRAFT

Multiple Housing Construction In Marin Is Still Riding High

Multiple housing construction in Marin is still riding high, and in spite of the fact that this paper published a recent article giving a 26 per cent vacancy factor in April, some developers feel the figure was misleading. They point out that it included many units which had just reached completion at the time of the survey—made during the so-called "slump" season of rental real estate.

PIONEER INVESTMENT CO., whose report formed the crux of the article, had this to say by way of rebuttal:

"Our report included only multiple projects for which building permits were issued in 1961 and 1962, and included apartments both for rent and for sale. Rather than purporting to reflect the over-all apartment vacancy situation, it was intended to indicate the ease of absorption of the 1,763 units. Only 150 units, or 8.5 per cent of the total, were vacant two months or more. Most of the vacant units (320) had been so for less than two months."

PACIFIC STATES RESEARCH, who conducted a study in Marin for Kaehler-Farrar Development Co., came back with this statement:

"Our study . . . was not confined solely to vacancy factors, as it was intended for a different and broader range of purpose . . . Out of the 3,356 rental units covered, 9.2 per cent were reported vacant in March, 1963; out of the 297 condominium or cooperative units which had been recently exposed to the market, 31 units —or 10.4 per cent — were vacant at that time . . . An over-all factor of 9.4 per cent can neither be considered an unhealthy one, nor out of conformance with the national standard which contemplates a vacancy factor of 7 per cent as being normal. From the point of view of financing projections as to earning power, 10 per cent is the general rule."

IT IS TRUE this year's activity in new multiples is continuing at a fast pace. The best evidence of it is in 1963 building permits which are far and away ahead of last year.

This writer found it apparent in processing some of the material which will go into the Independent-Journal's "Marin Parade of Homes" to be published Sept. 6.

This edition, by the way, will run into four sections — probably 52 pages. More pictures will be used, and more articles —many of them reflecting the home trends in different parts of the county. More advertisers are represented. Last year's edition was contained in three sections—38 pages.

THE CONSTRUCTION INDUSTRY is now entering one of its most favorable climates, according to William Ghilotti, president of Ghilotti Brothers, Inc., San Rafael, and also president of the North Bay chapter of the Engineering and Grading Contractors Assn. He believes work volume will continue to hold, with a minimum of shutdown resulting from labor strife.

The association's members specialize in non-building construction but their work is an integral part of residential development, Marin County's biggest industry.

Readings To Highlight Summer Program's End

Readings by Bea Thorpe from "The Spider's Palace" by Richard Hughes and from "Grandfather Tales" by Richard Chase will highlight the end of the Mill Valley Public Library summer reading program to be held at 11 a.m. Friday at the library.

All children who have read ten books during the summer will be awarded certificates by Mrs. Hugh Fudenberg, member of the library's board of trustees.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

A Season Of Achievement By Our Marin Theaters

Unprecedented advance in work of theater groups of Marin County has recently been in evidence, spearheaded by three major companies but ably supported by others. Wide critical acclaim has been in evidence, its validity endorsed by marked increases in public support.

An exceptionally popular run of the Marin Shakespeare Festival will end Saturday night. "Othello" and "The Taming of the Shrew" have been playing on alternate weeks—Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights—at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross, where the unusual provision of an outdoor amphitheater has been a special attraction.

Performances of "The Taming of the Shrew" have been particularly well received. An amusing but significant sign of support has been use of a Marin Shakespeare Festival cancellation stamp at the San Rafael post office!

Another fine season has been scored by "Marin's only professional resident theater" the Festival Theater on the campus of the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo. Here Elizabeth Berryhill and her colleagues have been the center of constructive activity in this fourth consecutive year.

"Plays For Bleecker Street" by Thornton Wilder are turning out most successfully now on Wednesday, Friday and Saturday nights. The well known Straw Hat Revue drew large and appreciative audiences earlier in the month.

Jack Aranson's Company playing at the Gate Theater in Sausalito, home base through the years for many Marin little theater groups, is also drawing good attendance with the suspense drama "Write Me A Murder" on Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights.

Aranson himself heads the cast and the troupe and has had rich background in the theater in Ireland, continental Europe and elsewhere in this country. He has appeared with Orson Welles among other notables.

Mention must be made of similar dynamics soon to be in evidence among such established groups as the Sausalito Little Theater, Ross Valley Players, Cove Players, Tamalpais Valley Players, Homestead Players, San Geronimo Valley Players, Terra Linda Little Theater, Novato Community Club, College of Marin and Dominican College groups, and others as they plan their new fall seasons.

Newspapers throughout the Bay Area have been giving favorable notices of Marin performances this season and many of those in attendance come from outside Marin County. What this adds up to is that we must not think of Marin as notable for its natural scenic wonders alone. Amidst artificial scenery abundant dramatic vitality is in evidence, flourishing and with great future promise.

Armies Of Ants

It is a lucky Marin family that has no small red ants lurking somewhere on the premises. Most Marinites know if they drop a bit of food on the patio or porch at dinner it will be swarming with ants by morning unless it is cleaned up right away.

Perhaps you have wondered how the ants communicate the intelligence that food is waiting for all comers on the northwest corner of the Smith patio. The secret is a scent trail left by a scouting ant.

When an ant scout finds a bit of food, he becomes excited and starts exuding a particular scent as he heads back to the nest with the good news. The other ants follow this scent trail back to the goodies. Simple.

Not so simple is eradicating them. But take comfort in the fact that most Marinites fight similar battles against armies of ants.

THE LIGHTER SIDE

Let's Not Upset Rachel Carson But Dang All Those Insects!

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — One of the major tasks confronting mankind is finding a means of doing away with insects without upsetting Rachel Carson.

In her book "Silent Spring," Miss Carson put her foot down regarding the use of chemical pesticides. This brought forth suggestions that she should try putting her foot down on a few bugs.

It was generally agreed, however, that her point about pesticides upsetting the balance of Nature was well taken.

AS ONE who has been feeling a little unbalanced myself, I am pleased to observe that Miss Carson's message has begun to make itself felt.

At Gainesville, Fla., the U.S. Department of Agriculture is dedicating a new insect research laboratory to the pursuit of better methods of controlling pests.

Among other things, the lab will study various biological measures, such as insect birth control.

I don't have the program for the dedication ceremony, but I think it would be appropriate if they invited Miss Carson to throw out the first cockroach, or something like that.

IN ADDITION to this project, a team of department scientists at Beltsville, Md., has started a search for new physical methods of controlling four types of flies.

They are investigating the merits of light rays, sound waves, air currents and geometric patterns as weapons against these pests. Apparently they have concluded that the fly swatter is obsolete.

No results from Beltsville are expected for a long time yet, but there is good news from the agriculture research service at Corvallis, Ore.

Scientists there have discovered that female houseflies apparently use some sort of perfume to attract male flies.

PROUD OF the role that scent plays in the romance of a housefly was obtained with a device called an olfactometer. The scientists put some male flies in one chamber and then put some females in another chamber where the fellows couldn't see them.

Despite the absence of sight or sound to lure them, a significant number of the males wound up in the chamber with the females. It is assumed, therefore, that the perfume got 'em.

According to the Agriculture Department, the Corvallis experiment holds promise of developing into something big in the way of fly control. I would not care to speculate just how.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Another March In History

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The enclosed picture and story about Max Beagrie Jr., 18, as a Marin "delegate" to the March on Washington, is just one of numerous articles from every section of our state. Practically all of these releases inform us that the primary purpose of the march is to use the "freedom of assembly" assured us under the Constitution to advocate in the shadows of Congress and the White House proposed legislation "right now" for civil rights, "$2.00 per hour minimum wage," "equal opportunity" and "jobs and freedom."

This March to Washington —particularly from the West Coast—dedicated to the announced idea of compulsory cooperation in organized society against voluntary cooperation, the latter philosophy being the one upon which the strength and greatness of this nation flourished and grew, brings clearly to mind my concept of what the "builders and pioneers" of these United States did when they made the historic march from the East to the West.

Not a march of any minority group, not a hippodrome affair agitated by sincere but misguided folk, but a westward trek by all kinds of minorities, English, Scotch, Irish, Scandinavians, Germans, French, Italians, Greeks and others, who sought a chance to be free and make it on their own.

They were families that had failed to make a living or find a job suitable to their talents in the New England states. They didn't demand government subsidies, checks for crops they didn't raise, guaranteed wages and working hours, a dole for not working after being unemployed. They would have scorned such things.

Instead they packed their worldly goods in covered wagons and walked beside those wagons for 2,000 miles westward. They knew not what lay ahead, but they were determined to find a place of freedom and to keep their self-respect. They knew that the only way to individual dignity and self-respect is to make your own way, not gripe for something for nothing or to assume that the world owes you a living.

They tilled the soil, grew food, started crossroads stores, became mechanics, saved their hard earned money and started factories. Their sons and daughters carried on and thus America grew and grew, yielding us a great heritage. But, what are we doing with this heritage?

I do not pose as a social science expert, but the study of American history, our form of government, and every word of the Declaration of Independence, Bill of Rights and the Constitution has been, let me say, a hobby of mine. From this study I appreciate what is the real America; and consequently, I am sold on the tremendous importance of keeping this nation on a voluntary cooperative society as opposed to the statism of compulsion. And the secondary consequence of these marches on Washington, if partially successful, will bring us closer to economic slavehood.

So America was built by individuals willing to walk 2,000 miles alongside a wagon, to find opportunity. If this spirit among us is gone, if all we have left are spineless weaklings who want to be taken care of, then American manliness is prone, and that 2,000 mile walk was futile.

Views Are By Aero Photos

Editor, Independent-Journal:

We are very much impressed with the beautiful picture of the "Shoreline And Hills Of Sausalito" as appeared on page 24 of your Aug. 24 issue and are wondering if it would be possible to get a similar blown-up copy of the original photograph suitable for framing and display here in our home.

Of course it is anticipated that some cost will be involved that we will happily meet.

If it is possible to meet this request, or any information regarding the same will be appreciated.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Are there ghosts in the White House? If so, none seem to have manifested themselves to the Kennedys —as yet, at any rate. But former President Truman, Mrs. Coolidge, and Mrs. Roosevelt all reported apparitions of Abraham Lincoln, and other strange occurrences — never under oath, however. It is a matter of record that when Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands was a guest at the White House, she swore that she saw Mrs. Lincoln march straight into her drawing room—and fainted dead away. Mrs. Woodrow Wilson was convinced that the ghost of Dolly Madison dropped in one evening to pay her respects. Even Winston Churchill reported strange noises and visitations while he stayed at the White House during World War II (for top secret conferences with F.D.R. and Harry Hopkins).

Maybe these are the very ghosts who are writing those so-called "inside stories" of doings in top Washington echelons?

Way back in 1758, this item appeared in Benjamin Franklin's "Poor Richard's Almanac": "Laziness travels so slowly that poverty soon overtakes him. We may make these times better if we bestir ourselves. There are no gains without pains."

A letter from an undertaker that produced immediate results: "If you don't make the final payment on your mother-in-law's funeral by next Monday, UP SHE COMES!"

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

20 YEARS AGO

I J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By FRED WYATT

Leviticus, I-J Teletype, Goes Into A Fancy Tantrum

THIS WON'T QUITE be jazz with poetry. Rather a monologue while playing vintage Duke Ellington and Benny Goodman records at home in Mill Valley.

Among other distractions in the I-J outpost in rustic Corte Madera last week, Leviticus, the teletype, went clear out of his robot mind.

His ditherings threw into turmoil my thoughts of Larkspur City Council foulups, CHP reports of auto smashups and other matters of pith and moment.

His aberrations made my copy more nearly gibberish than usual. The Pacific Tel and Tel expert answering my howl for help brought a wondrous electronic device.

It had a science-fiction-like meter that registered Leviticus' brain patterns. A flashing, working green line showed Leviticus "completely distorting about 30 per cent" and distorting three other ways to lesser extents.

"It's doing certain things before it should," said the phone man. Like humans who forget to do first things first.

TELETYPES, self service elevators, electric razors and other marvels of the machine age still terrify me after all the years I have used them. I think I wouldn't mind sending my copy by carrier pigeon instead of teletype.

It is a thunderous device that gives the effect of an earthquake in the office whenever it is in operation.

Whenever Leviticus speaks I never know when his rumbling is a hot bulletin to the city room from Mill Valley Bureau reporting a new city council secret meeting or the city desk asking me whether the junior college district board meets this week or next.

So much of my working day is geared to the chatterings of Leviticus that when he goes psycho I am bereft. May he remain serene a while!

I AM NOT the one to report on a showing of water colors and oil paintings. Jazz music and the American novel and short story are about the only art forms I feel somewhat able to discuss.

However, I had occasion to view a great number of paintings last week in the home of Ken Potter east of Highway 101 in Corte Madera. And as the only reporter present I feel a kind of duty to report something.

Seems Potter suddenly had retrieved a number of his works from two or three exhibits around California and his home was temporarily a warehouse of paintings.

Two visitors brought their wives. Each couple bought a painting. I went home with just the memory. Most of the "art" on my humble walls is photos—of bandleaders, Pappy Boyington, a New York friend named Bill and like that.

I formed a conclusion, though: I think it's better to buy art by living artists we know than by those departed. That way we don't have to worry whether a painting is genuinely by the artist named or a slick copy by someone else.

ONE FINAL CHANGE of subject: Several readers have commented to me sharply re residents without children who would like to be excused from paying school taxes.

Those commenting say the residents act as though they did not realize they were paying for their own future; indeed they act as though they expected to die very soon and did not care what happened to their nation after that.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

Senators Give Warning Against De Gaulle

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy is on emphatic notice from two influential leaders of his own party to give no atomic concessions to President de Gaulle to gain his support of the test ban treaty and possible other deals with Khrushchev.

This stern warning was served by Sen. Wayne Morse, militant Oregonian, and Sen. Vance Hartke, Ind., former head of the Democratic Campaign Committee.

Each used unmistakable language, but how much good it does remains to be seen.

So far, both the president and Sec. Dean Rusk have patently been ambigious in their replies.

ON ONE HAND, they are giving the impression they are not bargaining with De Gaulle. At the same time, they are very carefully not denying this categorically. In other words, they are not admitting it and they're not denying it.

That's why Morse, particularly, is so suspicious and disturbed.

If there is nothing afoot in wooing De Gaulle, he wants it spelled out in detail — in writing, preferably by the president himself.

Further, the veteran Oregon scrapper wants an executive session of the Foreign Relations Committee, which is considering the test ban treaty, for a bare-knuckled grilling of Rusk.

MORSE ALREADY has sharply questioned Dr. Glenn Seaborg, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, on the French issue, but without conclusive results.

Seaborg declared he knows of no backstage offers to De Gaulle. However, he admitted his knowledge extends only as far as the Atomic Energy Commission's scope is concerned.

"The political desirability of cooperating with France," as he expressed it, is out of his orbit. On that he was unable to speak.

FLASHES—A leading New York book publisher is trying to persuade Senator Harry Byrd, veteran Virginia Democratic leader, to write his memoirs—but with no luck so far.

The one-time USS Potomac, the late President Roosevelt's yacht, has been refurbished and is on display as a public museum at Redondo Beach, Calif. The 165-ft. vessel, affectionately called "Shangri La" by the New Deal leader, was built in 1935.

During World War II, many historic conferences took place on the yacht. Later it was sold and after serving for years as a ferry among the Caribbean islands, was headed for the junk yard when salvaged by Dallas de Caussin, who spent a year and $500,000 restoring the vessel.

The only difference from its original appearance is the absence of a second smoke stack, which actually was a secret elevator to lift FDR to the deck.

BILINGUAL CALENDARS

Sausalito artist Lew Bodecker and Mrs. Glenn Mitchell, publicity chairman of Sausalito's People to People Committee, inspect calendars that will be offered for sale during the annual Sausalito Festival of Art this weekend. Six artists from Sausalito and six from the sister city of Vino del Mar, Chile, donated works for the calendar. Proceeds from the sale will go toward a fund to finance the exchange of students or teachers between the two cities. (Independent-Journal photo)

Traffic Deaths Are Predicted For Labor Day

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The California Highway Patrol estimated today that five to 55 persons will be killed in Labor Day weekend traffic accidents in the state.

Commissioner Bradford Crittenden said all available patrolmen will be on the road with orders to concentrate on the violations which cause the most accidents — speeding, drunken driving, failure to observe stop signs or signals, driving on the wrong side of the road and failure to yield right-of-way.

A total of 49 persons were killed on California's highways on the three-day Labor Day holiday in 1962. The record of 56 was set in 1946.

Boy Falls From Train; Escapes With Bruises

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) —An eight-year-old boy fell from a speeding express train near Sarajevo yesterday and escaped with bruises, the newspaper Politka reported.

Vanca Skubev opened the wrong door while looking for the washroom. Passengers notified the crew who backed up the train and found the boy a half hour later.

Arizona Water Plan Held Able To Stand On Its Own

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Interior subcommittee on irrigation and reclamation was told yesterday that the 1.1-billion-dollar Central Arizona Water Project could stand on its own as an economically justifiable undertaking.

The statement was made by Floyd Dominy, the Interior Department's reclamation bureau commissioner, as he answered questions of Arizona Sens. Carl Hayden (Democrat) and Barry Goldwater (Republican), co-sponsors of a bill to authorize the project.

Dominy further stated that the gigantic water-storage hydroelectric and recreational development could be constructed in seven years under favorable conditions. A 10-year period has generally been mentioned as the time that normally would be required.

The matter of time arose as the senators told of the booming population and industrial growth of their state and a steady increase in water consumption.

This, they argued, is one reason for pressing for passage now of a Central Arizona Project authorization bill notwithstanding the merits of a Pacific Southwest water basin development plan advocated by Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall.

Although Dominy backed the Udall plan and said the Central Arizona Project could be operated more efficiently as a major unit of the over-all lower Colorado River development program, he agreed that if authorized separately it might get a two-year or three-year head start over other projects in the basin-wide plan.

The discussion brought about heated comment from Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif.). He said it would be favoritism to single out and authorize the Arizona project ahead of the other proposed dams and aqueducts contained in the basin-wide proposal.

Repeating contentions he made at the hearing Tuesday, Kuchel called the proceedings illegal and improper because, he said, the Interior Department has not yet submitted a formal report as to its views on the Central Arizona Project.

Voicing grave concern that California might find its water rights jeopardized if Arizona got the CAP bill through separately, Kuchel said:

"I want to help the people of my neighboring State of Arizona. I simply say that the people in my state are apprehensive about the existing water contracts and uses of water."

Dominy and other Reclamation Bureau officials said there was no positive assurance they could give California that there would always be enough water in the Colorado River to guarantee that all water contracts could be filled under

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Delightful Feeling To Make Light Penalty Double On Doubtful Bid

It's quite a good idea to open the bidding light, and it's equally delightful to make a light penalty double when an opponent makes a doubtful bid. Just don't do both on the same hand.

Opening lead — ♠ K

Several experts made an opening bid on the West hand in the recent national tournament.

Most of the experts passed because the hand didn't have the right quality. Most experts promise two quick tricks with an opening bid.

DOUBLE

Nobody can blame East for doubling two hearts. He expected to beat South badly if West had reasonable defensive strength for the opening bid.

Imagine that West's spades were headed by A-K instead of K-Q-J. West would take two top spades and lead a third spade for East to ruff.

West would get back with a club to lead a fourth spade. When the smoke cleared, East would collect 300 points.

DIFFERENT RESULT

The result was quite different because West did not have the ace of spades. West led the king of spades, and South took the ace at once.

Declarer took his three diamond tricks and then led a club.

West won and returned the nine of trumps, as good a defense as any. South won in dummy with the ace of hearts and ruffed a club.

TWO TRUMP TRICKS

By this time South had taken six tricks and still had K-10-8 of trumps. It didn't take any great skill to win two trump tricks with these cards to fulfill the contract.

If we have to blame somebody for this, we should point the finger at West.

He knew that East had a mediocre hand since he had passed two diamonds; and West also knew that he himself had a poor defensive hand. The combination was too risky.

TWO SPADES

West should have taken the double out to two spades in the hope of playing at some undoubled contract.

If so, he would get away cheaply, losing only 100 points. Even if doubled, he would lose only 300 points—better than doubling South into game.

TIME AND TIDE

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Light-face type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, Aug. 29, the 241st day of 1963 with 124 to follow.

The moon is approaching full phase. The morning star is Jupiter. The evening stars are Mars and Saturn.

American poet and essayist Oliver Wendell Holmes was born on this date in history:

In 1960, the premier of Jordan and 11 others died when a time bomb exploded in his office.

In 1962, President John F. Kennedy appointed Arthur Goldberg to fill the Supreme Court vacancy left by the retirement of Felix Frankfurter.

A thought for the day—Mark Twain said: "Let us be thankful for the fools. But for them the rest of us could not succeed."

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

I T
has that certain "je ne sais quoi "say the French when they try to describe the indiscribable . . . so it is with this home . . . "Je ne sais quoi"
It combines the best of two possible worlds. Above, the world of intimate gatherings, formal dinners, cocktails, candle light, a natural graciousness unspoiled by gim-cracks and gingerbread. On the second level, the life of relaxation, of loafers and Bermuda's, and no shaves on Saturday. The recreation room opens onto its own separate patio. The workshop awaits, informality is here.

It's a big home with big rooms. The love and laughter of children should fill its halls.

Four bedrooms, all big enough for twin beds or better. 3½ baths, two with tub and shower.

Breakfast nook and formal dining room. A brick barbecue dominates the second patio. Storage enough for everything. The kitchen alone has 26 different storage spaces; one large enough for two complete sets of dinner and glassware, one just right for the towel rack and nothing more.

In San Rafael's finest neighborhood with an overwhelming view of the mountains. But you drive no winding mountain road to reach this beauty.

In this home the sum is greater than the total of its parts. Formal living, relaxed privacy. Every modern convenience. A view that sings of Marin.

We tried to describe all this but join them together and all we can say is "it has that certain 'je ne sais quoi'."

Come see for yourself.

and her curiosity paid us a visit last weekend. Her only comment was "These are the most colorful and livable 3 and 4 bedrm. homes I've EVER seen. Not only do you have a choice of homes but you can also choose your carpeting and other appointments. The view of the whole bay is simply fantastic."

Why don't you allow us the pleasure of showing you these new custom built homes at such low prices. Give us a call . . . P.S.—Rosey is in the process of buying one.

I T
has that certain "je ne sais quoi "say the French when they try to describe the indiscribable . . . so it is with this home . . . "Je ne sais quoi"
It combines the best of two possible worlds. Above, the world of intimate gatherings, formal dinners, cocktails, candle light, a natural graciousness unspoiled by gim-cracks and gingerbread. On the second level, the life of relaxation, of loafers and Bermuda's, and no shaves on Saturday. The recreation room opens onto its own separate patio. The workshop awaits, informality is here.

It's a big home with big rooms. The love and laughter of children should fill its halls.

Four bedrooms, all big enough for twin beds or better. 3½ baths, two with tub and shower.

Breakfast nook and formal dining room. A brick barbecue dominates the second patio. Storage enough for everything. The kitchen alone has 26 different storage spaces; one large enough for two complete sets of dinner and glassware, one just right for the towel rack and nothing more.

In San Rafael's finest neighborhood with an overwhelming view of the mountains. But you drive no winding mountain road to reach this beauty.

In this home the sum is greater than the total of its parts. Formal living, relaxed privacy. Every modern convenience. A view that sings of Marin.

We tried to describe all this but join them together and all we can say is "it has that certain 'je ne sais quoi'."

Come see for yourself.

ROSS SPECTACULAR
A rare opportunity to acquire a most desirable residence in Ross. This home was meant for gracious entertaining and provides the utmost in privacy on its wooded acre.

The long, sweeping driveway leads to an ultra-modern house of 3 bedrooms, 2½ baths, separate dining room with built-in storage wall, the kitchen is equipped with every convenience including double ovens, built-in refrigerator and freezer. A separate breakfast room of good proportions takes care of informal meals. The laundry room is most conveniently located to the service area and boasts no end of storage. Piece de resistance — particularly during the outdoor entertaining season—is an open screened area which is part of the house and adjacent to the terrace. A 40-foot pool with an attendant bathhouse completes the picture of happy, carefree days. We will be happy to show you this property on appointment. $115,000. Eves., call 479-7094.

EARLY CALIFORNIA

We are fortunate to have just listed this colorful ranch located in the most scenic part of the Valley of the Moon. There is eleven acres sprinkled with old oaks that were impressive in Jack London's time. Large main home recently renovated so you may live in comfort. Smaller home would make excellent guest house or rental. Regal home for those prized mares and geldings. If you should prefer whitefaces or lambs don't hesitate, won't last — $32,950. With excellent terms.

LAND, ACREAGE MORE LAND!

We are known for our many unimproved land listings. If you are looking for an acre or for 446 acres we have it. If it is level grazing land, rolling with native trees, hill property with majestic views, we have it all. Prices from $600 an acre.

★ SHAMROCK DODGE ★

The dealer who respects your budget problems — and helps you buy a car

★ $99 DOWN ★

WE WANT AND NEED YOUR BUSINESS, BUT, WE DON'T WANT YOU TO SPEND MORE THAN YOU CAN AFFORD.

So you name the payments that fit your budget and, if we have any profit at all left over,

YOU'LL DRIVE HOME IN A NEW CAR OR TRUCK

You can take immediate delivery for just

★ $99 DOWN ★

BECAUSE YOUR CREDIT—LOCAL OR OUT OF TOWN

can be cleared on the spot

WE DO NOT CLAIM TO SELL AT A LOSS, BECAUSE YOU KNOW AND WE KNOW THAT WE MUST MAKE A PROFIT IN ORDER TO STAY IN BUSINESS—BUT THE SIMPLE TRUTH IS THAT WE ARE CONTENT with ⅓ the profit that some dealers demand

SO NO MATTER WHO HAS SAID NO TO YOUR DEAL,

see us—maybe we can help you

★ $99 DOWN ★

AND PAYMENTS TO FIT YOUR BUDGET THAT'S WHY WE SAY—

"IF WE CAN'T SAVE YOU MONEY, WE DON'T DESERVE YOUR BUSINESS"

Russian-American Secondary School Unique Institution

4-Year-Old Church School Has No Iron Curtain Ties

By GERALD S. SNYDER

NEW YORK (UPI)—In an old gray mansion on New York's upper Park Avenue, a man in flowing black robes and long black beard picked up a copy of a textbook published in Russia.

"They (the Communists) mix politics in everything," he said. "In art, in history, in geography, everywhere it's possible—and sometimes where it's impossible.

"Here we are teaching with big impartiality!"

Yugoslav - born Anthony Grabbe, an abbot in the Russian Orthodox Church Outside of Russia, was referring to a unique institution—the only Russian-American secondary school this side of the Iron Curtain.

In a converted, 52-room four-story structure, which once belonged to the widow of a Boston banker, a small "gymnasia" called St. Sergius High School is turning out bilingual American citizens with a fluent knowledge of the Russian language, history, geography and ancient Russian culture — all free of politics.

The 4-year-old, little-known church school (actor Yul Brynner is on the advisory board) boasts almost double the amount of academic units required by most American secondary schools. It meets the stiff requirements of the New York State Board of Regents, and even stiffer requirements of European schools.

But the way in is not easy. Since the school first opened its doors, 24 students have been dismissed ("not brilliant enough," said Abbot Grabbe) and most who apply are disqualified because they lack pre-highschool scholarship.

For those who do get in, the awards are many. The classes are small, the standards high. Between 8:20 a.m. and 4:10 p.m., the school's two-dozen teen-agers (most of Russian extraction) handle ponderous doses of religion, literature, history, geography, music and art. Some courses are conducted only in Russian, others in English.

"Russian is now the second most important scientific language in the world," said Abbott Grabbe, the principal.

The churchman, who came to the United States with post-World War II refugees from Yugoslavia, estimated there are about two million persons of Russian ancestry now in the United States, most in Pennsylvania, California, New Jersey and New York.

"There was no single Russian school for 300 years," he said in his book-lined office, a picture of Metropolitan Anastassy, 90-year-old head of the Orthodox Church Outside of Russia, dominating one wall.

"The Russians are very egocentric," the abbot said. "They have denied the past. The greatest contributions of Russian science and literature were pre-revolutionary."

The young (36) archpriest got up from behind his desk. A tall man with long and delicate features, he looked as though he'd stepped out of an El Greco painting. "Pushkin, Lermontov, Gogol, Turgenev, Dostoyevsky, Tolstoy, Mendelev," he said with a wave of his arm.

All of their works have been "politicized," he said. "Here we want to back the humanities for the humanities. Science for science. We offer no special lessons about communism. Just logic. It is a question of belief. I believe there is a God. They (Communists) believe there is none."

Abbot Grabbe said that an Orthodox Church - connected monastery at Jordanville, N.Y., prints most of the school's Russian texts. "You don't need all kinds of books," he said. "Just truth."

Now, the abbot is busy with plans for a school of higher learning. "The New York Russian and Slavic Institute" will start in the high school in September. "It's mostly for American youths wishing to receive appropriate, qualified and impartial instruction in the Slavic and Russian fields," he explained.

Russian-born Dr. Vsevolod Nikolaev of New York University will head the institute and Countess Alexandra Tolstoy is expected to be among the faculty. "The shortage of specialists in the Russian field is one of the important handicaps for American diplomats, policy makers, journalists, advocates of disarmament and those working for the promotion of peace," Abot Grabbe said.

The Orthodox Church Outside of Russia has severed all ties with the patriarchate in the Soviet Union, he added. "The representative between the church and the government is a man named Karpoff, a layman who is head of the atheistic program of Russia."

Thus, he said, co-existence is not possible. "This high school and the institute is."

End Of Summer But Not End Of REA Fun

End-of-summer means no end of fun in the Redwood Empire vacationland of Northern California and Southern Oregon.

Starting with the Labor Day weekend (Aug. 31-Sept. 2) spectators and sports fans may enjoy the Scottish Caledonian Games at Santa Rosa, boat-and-ski races at Lakeport, or the whiskery Illinois Valley Jubilee at Cave Junction, Oregon. Also a Paul Bunyan festival at Fort Bragg, and "Big Foot" legendry at Willow Creek, in eastern Humboldt County.

The following weekend (Sept. 6-8) will see the Second Annual Sonoma County Air Festival at Santa Rosa, with an aviation show Sunday at the Santa Rosa airport. The 7th and 8th, Guerneville stages its annual Pageant of Fire Mountain, free night-time spectacle beside the Russian River.

The upper Napa Valley jumps to Sam Brannan Days at Calistoga Sept. 13-15. The State Open Water-ski Championships are at Clear Lake on the 21st, and the Fourth Annual Clear Lake Festival at Clearlake Highlands on the 28th. The Guerneville Garden Show is Sept. 14-15.

The Mendocino County Fair and Apple Show runs at Boonville Sept. 27-29; pageantry of the annual Valley of the Moon Vintage Festival takes precedence at historic Sonoma Sept. 28-29. For auto buffs, there's a Concours d'Elegance at Peacock Gap, near San Rafael, on the 29th.

San Francisco offers the Giants at Candlestick Park Sept. 2-8 and 20-20. Also the dedication of the 30-million-dollar International Airport addition Sept. 14.

Calico was first imported from Calicut in the East Indies and derived its name from its original source.

Tiburon Man Hits Guardrail

Everette C. Cleveland, 38, of 2130 Mar East, Tiburon, a flight engineer for World Airlines, Oakland, suffered forehead and lip cuts at 2:15 a.m. yesterday when his sports car went off course and hit a guardrail and utility pole in Tiburon.

Cleveland was cruising east on Paradise Drive about 45 feet west of Mar West when his car left the road, reported California Highway Patrolman Charles Heart.

"I just sort of dozed off. The road sort of disappeared," Cleveland said. He was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Radiation Engineer Receives Fellowship

Philip Rummerfield of 75 Magee Avenue, Mill Valley, a radiation safety engineer with the California Division of Safety, has been awarded a fellowship to the University of Cincinnati by the United States Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The fellowship, which is awarded competitively, will begin Oct. 1 for a 12-month period, and will lead to a Master of Science degree in Industrial Health, with a specialty in radiation.

Marine Airmen Assignments Set

Sgt. Jack Wade, local recruiter for the U. S. Marine Corps, has announced that the corps is now guaranteeing aviation assignments to a few recruits each month.

The men are assigned to basic airman school after they complete regular "boot" and combat training.

Marin County youths who are interested in the program may see Sgt. Wade at the Marine recruiting office at 153 Madison Avenue, San Rafael, every Thursday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

U.S. Naval Force Pays Canada Visit

QUEBEC (AP)—A U.S. naval force headed by the aircraft carrier Intrepid steamed into Quebec City yesterday for a six-day courtesy call.

The fleet, which has some 5,000 officers, midshipmen and men, is on a summer training cruise out of its home base at Norfolk, Va.

Junior Horseshow Winners Named

Winners of 10 events in the western horseshow held by junior members of the San Geronimo Valley Horsemen's Assn. last week in Woodacre were announced yesterday.

They were Harry Rose Jr., Ellen Stone (two events), Peggy Steinhoss, Gerrie Tanzi, Cindy Stewart (two events), Diane Lopes and Linda Leoni (two events).

Future activities planned by the junior members include a trail test on Oct. 6, a senior playday on Oct. 13 and an overnight ride Oct. 26-27.

"G-E College Bowl" moderator Robert Earle did a Navy chore as "probably the first disk jockey on Peleiu," an island north of Guadalcanal.

Stolte Grove Setting For Mozart Fete

Third Annual Concert Open To Public Sunday

Stolte Grove in Homestead Valley will again be the setting for the third annual Mozart Festival Sunday.

The concert, presented by the Bach to Mozart Chamber Players under the leadership of Raymond Duste, is sponsored by the Homestead Valley Improvement Club. It will be open to the public without charge, since music is provided by Local No. 6 of the Musicians' Union (AFL-CIO).

Highlight of the concert will be Bach's Concerto in D Minor for two Violins, played by Nathan Rubin and David Abel. Rubin is the resident violinist-teacher at Mills College and first violinist with the Mills College Chamber Players. Abel is an outstanding young concert violinist who has played with the San Francisco, Boston, Chicago and many other major orchestras in the United States.

OTHER NUMBERS

The other numbers will be Mozart's Motet K.165, with soprano Carole Bogard as soloist, and Mozart's Symphonia Concertante in E Flat for wind instruments and orchestra.

Miss Bogard has sung in many concerts in Marin, including the Candlelight series in Brown's Hall, Mill Valley.

Other performers will be Duste, oboe; Frealon Bibbins and Carolyn Michaelian, clarinets; Robert Hughes, bassoon; Herman Dortman, Richard Dunn and Richard West, horns; Everett O'Bannon, Ernest Michaelian, Donna Salaty, Rudgiero Pelosi and Carolyn Michaelian, violins; Elizabeth Bell and David Smiley, violas; Ellen Dessler and Sally Kell, cellos; Dean Williams, bass; and Roy Bogas, piano.

Although the concert starts at 2 p.m., those wishing to do so may go as early as 11 a.m. and picnic. Food and drinks will be available at the Grove.

Cars are to be left on Miller Avenue near Brown's Hall in Mill Valley. Shuttle buses will begin operating at 11 a.m. to provide free transportation to and from the Grove.

Big Elevator Opened

DENVER (UPI)—A new 2¼-million-bushel grain elevator opened recently here by Cargill, Inc. will double Denver's capacity as "gateway to the West" for food and feed grains.
